No Federal Intervention Planned in Steel Strike

Fayette St. Bridge Repair Near End

BEFORE—Work of repairing extensive deterioration on the west side of the Fayette St. bridge gets started with scaffolding in place so workmen can reach the damaged parts. In many places the reinforcing steel was visible.

AFTER—Bridge surface is smooth after repairs are completed and the bridge presents an appearance much the same as when it was first completed. All exposed reinforcing steel was covered with concrete, too.

Once more the concrete bridge over Paint Creek on S. Fayette St., is presentable after an extensive rehabilitation job performed jointly by the city and county.

For several years the bridge had been deteriorating before the city and county officials got together to carry out repairs. The rehabilitation program necessitated an outlay of some $6,000. Both city and county crews collaborated with the task.

The county contracted with the Interstate Maintenance and Engineering Co. to do the work on the structure, exclusive of the sidewalks, at a cost of $4,876.

The city and county furnished crews to tear out and remove the old concrete walks, which had literally "gone to pieces."

The city paid for the concrete and other materials, at a cost of approximately $1,000, according to County Engineer Charles Wagner, who supervised the repair work.

* * *

NOW, PRACTICALLY all of the work has been completed, with exception of paving along the curb, which is to come later. The construction joints, which have been permitting water to run through the main part of the bridge floor and cause extensive damage to the substructure, are to be sealed in the hot asphalt.

When these joints are sealed, the main floor of the bridge is expected to be impervious to water seepage and the under part of the structure saved from further deterioration.

The main concrete stringers of the structure had scaled off, leaving the reinforcing steel exposed. The sides of the bridge proper also were showing effects of the weathering caused by improperly sealed joints.

A big improvement in the walks is noted, where two 10-inch steps have been eliminated by constructing sloping ramps to reach and leave the sidewalks on each side of the bridge roadway.

Engineer Wagner said that extreme care was taken and frequent inspections made to insure a proper mix of the concrete used in the repair work.

Auditor Fixes Rate on School Bond Proposals

Miami Trace, City Issues Readied for November Balloting

Two school bond issue proposals totaling $2,297,500 today had been certified back to the boards of education in which they originated. If the next three steps in the procedures are taken successfully, they will be submitted to the voters at the November election.

The big one is for the Miami Trace District building program; it amounts to $1,652,500.

The other is for $645,000 for the Washington C. H. District's building program for elementary schools.

The two proposals were submitted to County Auditor Harry Allen before today's deadline, the Miami Trace District's on July 2 and the Washington C. H. District's on July 18, for him to figure the millage and tax rate required to pay them off.

* * *

ALTHOUGH the auditor, under the law, had 10 days in which to complete his calculations, he had finished the work by Thursday morning and had both proposals ready for the boards.

The auditor fixed an average rate of 2.58 mills to retire the Miami Trace District's $1,652,500 issue in 21 years.

For the Washington C. H. District's issue of $645,000 he set the rate at 2.18 mills to retire it over a 23-year period.

The Miami Trace bonds would be paid off, if approved by the voters, at the rate of $500 on Nov. 15, 1958; $79,000 a year to 1972 and $78,000 a year to 1978.

The Washington C. H. District's bonds would be paid off at the rate of $28,000 a year from Dec. 1, 1958, to 1979 and $29,000 a year until 1980.

* * *

THE SCHOOL BOARDS had to file their "certificates of necessity" (bond issue proposals) at least 110 days before the election on Nov. 6. This now has been done.

Now the boards have until 90 days before the election to submit to the Board of Elections a request that the proposals be placed on the ballot.

The Miami Trace District's $1,652,500 building program calls for a new high school for rural students only and improvements to some of the existing buildings. The program was based on the recommendations of the district's Fact-Finding Committee.

It also includes the purchase of a site of approximately 25 acres for the new high school building for $12,500. The site selected is the property of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Plummer at the intersection of the Bloomingburg and New Holland Pike and Jeffersonville Pike near

Debate Over Ike's Health Is Bitter

WASHINGTON (AP) — The presidential campaign gathered heat today as the aftermath of a bitter Senate floor exchange over President Eisenhower's health.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland (Calif) and Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz) challenged yesterday a speech in which Sen. McNamara (D-Mich) said presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty "is shielding the American public from the truth" about Eisenhower's health.

McNamara called it "one of the most masterful suppressions of the facts ever put across by the advertising techniques of Madison Avenue."

Goldwater took issue with McNamara, saying:

"I deplore the use of the political technique which has been used in this body, where it has been suggested that the President of the United States is operating under sedatives, that the President does not even know his own condition."

* * *

THIS WAS in reference to McNamara's assertion that Hagerty calls in the press and makes "announcements that the President is making important decisions." Then he asked:

"But does any newspaperman point out that those decisions were made, if they actually were made, when the President was still under sedatives; when he could not be making decisions or should not be if he really was?"

Knowland said he hoped that no one on either side believes Eisenhower "would deliberately misrepresent to the American people the condition of his health or his ability or his capacity" to serve as President.

McNamara denied he had reflected on Eisenhower and insisted his speech was aimed at his alarm "at the apparent manipulation of facts and the lack of information in the press" on the subject of the President's health.

"I am quite sure the President has not been a party to the shotgun medical bulletins and the huckster propaganda barrage from Madison Avenue that has

White House Denies Report Of 'Ultimatum'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A White House official said today there has been "no ultimatum, no warning" from President Eisenhower to disputants in the steel strike.

Murray Snyder, assistant press secretary, made the statement when asked about reports that the parties in the dispute had been given a week's deadline to reach a settlement as a result of a top level meeting here yesterday.

"There was no such action at this meeting and no such determination," Snyder replied.

Then, rephrasing his remarks, Snyder said there was "no ultimatum, no warning."

He said he knew of no plans for federal intervention and no discussion of applying a Taft-Hartley law injunction.

Meanwhile, in Pittsburgh, Federal Mediator Joseph F. Finnegan was on hand again for resumption of the talks as the strike rolled into its 19th day.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers, commenting on reports about invoking the Taft-Hartley law, said:

* * *

"PRESIDENT Eisenhower in 1952 told the AFL convention that injunctions do not settle the underlying causes of strikes. I have no reason to believe he has changed his mind."

Under the Taft-Hartley procedure, the 650,000 strikers could be ordered back on the job for an 80-day cooling off period while a government board inquired into the dispute.

Finnegan said he did not know of "anyone" setting an arbitrary deadline for settlement, adding:

"The whole tenor of the talks (at the White House) was toward solving the difficulty under normal collective bargaining."

Finnegan said Eisenhower sent an identical message to both the industry and union. He declared the message expressed concern about economic effects of the strike "but more important, for the 650,000 workers who are on strike."

John A. Stephens, U. S. Steel Corp. vice president and chief industry negotiator, said:

"We have not changed our offer."

The union has rejected that offer as "too little, too late and too long." It would provide a 52-month contract which, the industry says, would give a package boost amounting to 17 2-3 cents an hour in the first year. McDonald, who has not revealed his demands, valued the offer at 14 cents an hour. Wages have averaged $2.46 hourly.

In addition to the 650,000 strikers, some 103,000 workers in allied industries are idle.

U. S. Tightening Far East Setup

Military Units Due To Get Navy Direction

WASHINGTON (AP)—The top U.S. military headquarters in the Far East has been ordered moved from Japan to Hawaii, where it was before Pearl Harbor.

In a companion action late yesterday, the Defense Department announced it was shifting from the Army to the Navy the top command of all U .S. land, sea and air forces in the vast Pacific-Asiatic area. This too was the way it was before World War II.

Adm. Felix Stump, now Navy commander in chief in the Pacific, was designated to assume over-all leadership of American military forces in that theater when the changes become effective next July 1.

Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer currently is U. S. Far East commander and head of United Nations military forces. His headquarters are in Tokyo.

It was emphasized no major shifts of American fighting units are planned. Remaining in Japan

Preacher's Daughter Wins 'Miss U. S.' Beauty Crown

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The dark-haired daughter of an Iowa minister reigned today as the queen of America's entries in the Miss Universe contest.

Stately Carol Morris, 20, of Ottumwa, who "wished upon a star" as she entered Municipal Auditorium last night, had that wish come true when she was named Miss United States.

The Drake University junior won out in the final judging of 16 girls who had been chosen from the original field of 43 Americans in the contest.

Twenty - nine foreign beauties will make their first appearance before the judges tonight and 15 will be selected to vie with Miss Morris for the title of Miss Universe in the final stage of the contest tomorrow.

The new Miss U.S.A. is 5 feet 7, weighs 129 pounds and has a 36-25-36 figure. Blue eyes contrast with the dark brown of her hair.

Miss Morris, who serves as a lifeguard in Ottumwa during the summer, risked her chances for success by taking a dip in the ocean yesterday and getting her hair wet.

"I couldn't do anything with it," she said. "I didn't think I had a chance to win but I did wish upon a star, the first star I saw, and it came true.' "

One of the most poised girls in the contest, she broke down momentarily when she was announced as the winner.

Miss Morris is the only child of the Rev. Laverne Morris, pastor of the Davis Street Christian Church in Ottumwa, and Mrs. Gertrude Morris.

Studying to be an elementary school teacher, she came to the contest without ambition to become an actress. But one of her prizes is a movie contract.

Suicide Ruled In West Jeff Shotgun Death

LONDON (AP)—Dr. William T. Bacon, Madison County coroner, ruled suicide today in the death of a West Jefferson man police say may have been a member of a local "secret society."

The victim, Harry C. Cross, 27, died yesterday in a Columbus hospital. He was found Tuesday night lying on a West Jefferson street with a gaping hole in his stomach.

Dr. Bacon gave the ruling after Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation men made the paraffin test on the dead man's hands and concluded he shot the gun himself.

West Jefferson Police Chief Steve Nelson said Cross had scars on his left hand and wrist similar to those found on members of a "gang" or "secret society" police have been quietly investigating for about a year.

Chief Nelson said not much was known about the group except that members burned the backs of their left hands, apparently with an auto cigarette lighter, and slashed their left wrists. Nelson said it was either part of an initiation rite or a means of identification for the 15 or 20 "society" members.

Officer John E. Sharp, when he found Cross, said the man gasped out, "I shot myself; I want to die."

The shotgun, which Cross borrowed a short time earlier to hunt groundhogs, was lying nearby.

But Nelson said Cross had no known reason for wanting to kill himself. This factor, plus the possible link with the "society," led Nelson to ask for assistance in his investigations.

Chandler Says He's the Man

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Gov. A. B. Chandler of Kentucky says he has the best chance for the Democratic presidential nomination if a deadlock develops in the national convention.

"I don't have much chance for the nomination unless a deadlock develops," he said in a campaign speech here last night. "But if the haystack does catch on fire, I expect to be there with a pitchfork."

Chandler, former senator and one time commissioner of baseball made a flamboyant bid for West Virginia's 24 convention votes in a five-hour visit to this city, right across the big Sandy River from his home state.

Plant Blast Hurts 2 Men

GALLIPOLIS (AP)—Two men were burned critically yesterday in an explosion that ripped away a large front section of the Ohio Power Co.'s Philip Sporn plant on the Ohio River near Pomeroy.

The blast followed a fire which broke out in one of the plant's five-story coal bunkers in which fuel is stored before use in the boilers.

The injured men, Paul E. Huber, 32, of Pomeroy, and Kenneth E. Carter, 24, of Point Pleasant, W. Va., were using a water hose in an attempt to put out the flames in the coal bunker.

By Wash Fayette

When I saw C. J. Lindsey and his brother, Charles, painting one of the up-town buildings this week, I recognized a 50-foot extension ladder they were using as having for many, many years been in use by the Washington C. H. fire department.

The ladder, now 54 years old, came with the old horse-drawn hook and ladder wagon which, I believe, was one of the pieces of equipment bought after abandonment of the old steam fire engine which was used to pump water from the big cisterns at the intersections of Court and Fayette streets and Court and Main streets and at the eastern end of Court St., when needed to extinguish fires prior to building the waterworks system.

The ladder, in two sections, is of truss construction, made from yellow pine and of maximum strength for a ladder of that weight.

The Lindseys have been using it for the past seven years after having purchased it from the city when some of the latest equipment, notably the aerial ladder truck, was acquired

Civil Defense Alert Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Operation Alert 1956, a six-day civilian war game, is scheduled to start at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

During the day make-believe atomic assault will wipe out 76 U. S. industrial and military centers and some Canadian cities.

Top Washington officials and hundreds of other federal workers will leave the "doomed" capital by automobile for secret relocation centers in half a dozen states.

Unlike the two previous test alerts in past years, the armed forces will take part in this one, to an undisclosed extent.

The 1956 operation also will afford a nationwide daytime test of the Conelrad emergency radio network. All television and FM radio stations will go off the air at 3:10 p. m. tomorrow for 15 minutes. All standard radio stations will become silent too, except those equipped for Conelrad broadcasting on 640 and 1240 kilocycles. The latter will broadcast civil defense information.

Cut-Off Telephone Service Due To Be Restored Today

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Telephone service, ordered cut off Wednesday night in a labor dispute, was to be restored today to subscribers on five Consolidated Telephone Company exchanges in Harrison and Jefferson counties.

In another telephone strike development, R. N. Cole, company vice president, said he would tell Federal Mediator E. L. Phillips today whether the company would resume negotiations on a new contract. The company tentatively postponed further talks Wednesday until next Monday despite union protests.

The strike of 600 operators and service personnel started at midnight Saturday when the old one-year contract between the company and the Communication Workers of America (CWA) expired. Wage scales and working conditions are the issues blocking agreement on a new contract.

Cole ordered supervisors out of exchanges in Mount Pleasant, Adena, Brilliant, Dillonvale, and Smithfield Wednesday night claiming that local authorities were unable "to provide any semblance of protection for operating person-

$800,000 Involved In Illinois Scandal

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The amount of cash involved in the Illinois state check cashing scandal was placed at $800,000 today in the first official estimate.

It was made by Atty. Gen. Latham Castle, who said he has taken the first steps to recover for the state "an estimated $800,000 paid out in fraudulent or forged warrants" issued by the state auditor's office.

Orville E. Hodge resigned as state auditor Monday after a storm of scandal broke over his office. Previous estimates placed the amount involved at about $540,000.

The investigation is focused on a series of state checks (they're called warrants in official state terminology) that were issued by the auditor's office. They were cashed under what investigators labeled "questionable circumstances."

These circumstances, the investigators said, included cashing of checks by persons who were not named as payees on the checks and cashing some checks endorsed on a typewriter instead of the customary handwritten signature.

The news release said Castle had given State Treasurer Warren Wright affidavits signed by two Springfield men, who stated that six warrants for a total of $107,922 were fraudulently issued in their names and are forgeries.

The affidavits added that the two men did not endorse the warrants, received no money.

Castle, the chief law enforcement officer in Illinois, instructed the state treasurer to demand reimbursement from the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, the last endorser of the warrants.

Five of the warrants, for a total of $97,537, were made out in the name of Elmer J. Bretz, a Springfield contractor. One was made out to the Reuter Business Systems for $10,365.

Bretz and Clarence J. Reuter, head of the company bearing his name, set forth in their affidavits that: The sums in the warrants were not owed to them. They did not receive the cash.

Castle's announcement said similar action for recovery of the state money will be taken as additional affidavits are obtained.

Hodge has said he will make restitution to the extent of his resources. The amount reported under consideration was $400,000.

The state auditor's offiie staff has been reshuffled and Hodge is being questioned.

U. S. Envoy Gets Warning

BONN, Germany (AP)—A German undercover group warned U. S. Ambassador James B. Conant today it is prepared to fight to rid Germany of foreign troops.

The "Fighting Assn. for an Independent Germany" sent Conant a letter declaring:

"We will no longer bear the further presence of foreign troops on our holy soil."

It assailed what it called control of German policies by "Jewish money and foreign lords."

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government, it said, "plays the role of a willing lackey and a spineless dog which thankfully licks the hands of those who previously have beaten him."

Campaign To Save an Industry Passes Half-Way Mark

Efforts Redoubled in Pennington Fund Drive

A $30,000 fund drive designed to keep Pennington Bread Inc. and its three-quarter-million-dollar annual payroll in Washington C. H. was being intensified Thursday as the campaign passed the half-way mark.

A special Chamber of Commerce committee reported Wednesday night that contributions to date have reached $16,150, and Mac Dews, chairman, expressed confidence that the goal will be reached before the July 26 deadline.

Dews cited an increase in unsolicited, voluntary contributions and said that "It seems that in the last few days everybody in Washington C. H. wants to have a part in this drive."

A master list of potential donors has been prepared by the C. of C. office and an expanded committee is contacting these prospects, but an increasing interest in the campaign is being shown by "the average citizen." Dews said a 78-year-old-woman, once in business here, was among those who called his office offering financial assistance

Evidence of interest by civic groups is shown by a $500 check from the Lions Club.

"With this kind of spirit, we can't fail," the chairman declared.

* * *

THE $30,000 sought by subscription will be added to $20,000 in the C. of C. Industrial Development Fund to make up the $50,000 which has been offered to the Pennington Corp. for reestablishment of its commercial bakery operations halted by a $500,000 fire June 9.

Morgan E. Pennington, president of the firm, has agreed to build a larger streamlined bakery on the Clinton Ave. site and concentrate the entire Pennington production here with increased employment if the fund drive is successful. If it fails, Pennington has indicated he will locate in Columbus to take advantage of lower distribution costs. Local subscribers to the financial assistance fund would then receive refunds.

In addition to Dews, the campaign committee now consists of Walter Patton, Walter Rettig, Carroll Halliday, Arthur Finley, Rich-

Preacher's Daughter Wins 'Miss U. S.' Beauty Crown

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The dark-haired daughter of an Iowa minister reigned today as the queen of America's entries in the Miss Universe contest.

Stately Carol Morris, 20, of Ottumwa, who "wished upon a star" as she entered Municipal Auditorium last night, had that wish come true when she was named Miss United States.

The Drake University junior won out in the final judging of 16 girls who had been chosen from the original field of 43 Americans in the contest.

Twenty - nine foreign beauties will make their first appearance before the judges tonight and 15 will be selected to vie with Miss Morris for the title of Miss Universe in the final stage of the contest tomorrow.

The new Miss U.S.A. is 5 feet 7, weighs 129 pounds and has a 36-25-36 figure. Blue eyes contrast with the dark brown of her hair.

Miss Morris, who serves as a lifeguard in Ottumwa during the summer, risked her chances for success by taking a dip in the ocean yesterday and getting her hair wet.

"I couldn't do anything with it," she said. "I didn't think I had a chance to win but I did wish upon a star, the first star I saw, and it came true.' "

One of the most poised girls in the contest, she broke down momentarily when she was announced as the winner.

Miss Morris is the only child of the Rev. Laverne Morris, pastor of the Davis Street Christian Church in Ottumwa, and Mrs. Gertrude Morris.

Studying to be an elementary school teacher, she came to the contest without ambition to become an actress. But one of her prizes is a movie contract.

Suicide Ruled In West Jeff Shotgun Death

LONDON (AP)—Dr. William T. Bacon, Madison County coroner, ruled suicide today in the death of a West Jefferson man police say may have been a member of a local "secret society."

The victim, Harry C. Cross, 27, died yesterday in a Columbus hospital. He was found Tuesday night lying on a West Jefferson street with a gaping hole in his stomach.

Dr. Bacon gave the ruling after Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation men made the paraffin test on the dead man's hands and concluded he shot the gun himself.

West Jefferson Police Chief Steve Nelson said Cross had scars on his left hand and wrist similar to those found on members of a "gang" or "secret society" police have been quietly investigating for about a year.

Chief Nelson said not much was known about the group except that members burned the backs of their left hands, apparently with an auto cigarette lighter, and slashed their left wrists. Nelson said it was either part of an initiation rite or a means of identification for the 15 or 20 "society" members.

Officer John E. Sharp, when he found Cross, said the man gasped out, "I shot myself; I want to die."

The shotgun, which Cross borrowed a short time earlier to hunt groundhogs, was lying nearby.

But Nelson said Cross had no known reason for wanting to kill himself. This factor, plus the possible link with the "society," led Nelson to ask for assistance in his investigations.

Chandler Says He's the Man

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Gov. A. B. Chandler of Kentucky says he has the best chance for the Democratic presidential nomination if a deadlock develops in the national convention.

"I don't have much chance for the nomination unless a deadlock develops," he said in a campaign speech here last night. "But if the haystack does catch on fire, I expect to be there with a pitchfork."

Chandler, former senator and one time commissioner of baseball made a flamboyant bid for West Virginia's 24 convention votes in a five-hour visit to this city, right across the big Sandy River from his home state.

Plant Blast Hurts 2 Men

GALLIPOLIS (AP)—Two men were burned critically yesterday in an explosion that ripped away a large front section of the Ohio Power Co.'s Philip Sporn plant on the Ohio River near Pomeroy.

The blast followed a fire which broke out in one of the plant's five-story coal bunkers in which fuel is stored before use in the boilers.

The injured men, Paul E. Huber, 32, of Pomeroy, and Kenneth E. Carter, 24, of Point Pleasant, W. Va., were using a water hose in an attempt to put out the flames in the coal bunker.

By Wash Fayette

When I saw C. J. Lindsey and his brother, Charles, painting one of the up-town buildings this week, I recognized a 50-foot extension ladder they were using as having for many, many years been in use by the Washington C. H. fire department.

The ladder, now 54 years old, came with the old horse-drawn hook and ladder wagon which, I believe, was one of the pieces of equipment bought after abandonment of the old steam fire engine which was used to pump water from the big cisterns at the intersections of Court and Fayette streets and Court and Main streets and at the eastern end of Court St., when needed to extinguish fires prior to building the waterworks system.

The ladder, in two sections, is of truss construction, made from yellow pine and of maximum strength for a ladder of that weight.

The Lindseys have been using it for the past seven years after having purchased it from the city when some of the latest equipment, notably the aerial ladder truck, was acquired

Civil Defense Alert Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Operation Alert 1956, a six-day civilian war game, is scheduled to start at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

During the day make-believe atomic assault will wipe out 76 U. S. industrial and military centers and some Canadian cities.

Top Washington officials and hundreds of other federal workers will leave the "doomed" capital by automobile for secret relocation centers in half a dozen states.

Unlike the two previous test alerts in past years, the armed forces will take part in this one, to an undisclosed extent.

The 1956 operation also will afford a nationwide daytime test of the Conelrad emergency radio network. All television and FM radio stations will go off the air at 3:10 p. m. tomorrow for 15 minutes. All standard radio stations will become silent too, except those equipped for Conelrad broadcasting on 640 and 1240 kilocycles. The latter will broadcast civil defense information.

Cut-Off Telephone Service Due To Be Restored Today

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Telephone service, ordered cut off Wednesday night in a labor dispute, was to be restored today to subscribers on five Consolidated Telephone Company exchanges in Harrison and Jefferson counties.

In another telephone strike development, R. N. Cole, company vice president, said he would tell Federal Mediator E. L. Phillips today whether the company would resume negotiations on a new contract. The company tentatively postponed further talks Wednesday until next Monday despite union protests.

The strike of 600 operators and service personnel started at midnight Saturday when the old one-year contract between the company and the Communication Workers of America (CWA) expired. Wage scales and working conditions are the issues blocking agreement on a new contract.

Cole ordered supervisors out of exchanges in Mount Pleasant, Adena, Brilliant, Dillonvale, and Smithfield Wednesday night claiming that local authorities were unable "to provide any semblance of protection for operating person-

$800,000 Involved In Illinois Scandal

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The amount of cash involved in the Illinois state check cashing scandal was placed at $800,000 today in the first official estimate.

It was made by Atty. Gen. Latham Castle, who said he has taken the first steps to recover for the state "an estimated $800,000 paid out in fraudulent or forged warrants" issued by the state auditor's office.

Orville E. Hodge resigned as state auditor Monday after a storm of scandal broke over his office. Previous estimates placed the amount involved at about $540,000.

The investigation is focused on a series of state checks (they're called warrants in official state terminology) that were issued by the auditor's office. They were cashed under what investigators labeled "questionable circumstances."

These circumstances, the investigators said, included cashing of checks by persons who were not named as payees on the checks and cashing some checks endorsed on a typewriter instead of the customary handwritten signature.

The news release said Castle had given State Treasurer Warren Wright affidavits signed by two Springfield men, who stated that six warrants for a total of $107,922 were fraudulently issued in their names and are forgeries.

The affidavits added that the two men did not endorse the warrants, received no money.

Castle, the chief law enforcement officer in Illinois, instructed the state treasurer to demand reimbursement from the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, the last endorser of the warrants.

Five of the warrants, for a total of $97,537, were made out in the name of Elmer J. Bretz, a Springfield contractor. One was made out to the Reuter Business Systems for $10,365.

Bretz and Clarence J. Reuter, head of the company bearing his name, set forth in their affidavits that: The sums in the warrants were not owed to them. They did not receive the cash.

Castle's announcement said similar action for recovery of the state money will be taken as additional affidavits are obtained.

Hodge has said he will make restitution to the extent of his resources. The amount reported under consideration was $400,000.

The state auditor's offiie staff has been reshuffled and Hodge is being questioned.

U. S. Envoy Gets Warning

BONN, Germany (AP)—A German undercover group warned U. S. Ambassador James B. Conant today it is prepared to fight to rid Germany of foreign troops.

The "Fighting Assn. for an Independent Germany" sent Conant a letter declaring:

"We will no longer bear the further presence of foreign troops on our holy soil."

It assailed what it called control of German policies by "Jewish money and foreign lords."

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government, it said, "plays the role of a willing lackey and a spineless dog which thankfully licks the hands of those who previously have beaten him."

Campaign To Save an Industry Passes Half-Way Mark

Efforts Redoubled in Pennington Fund Drive

A $30,000 fund drive designed to keep Pennington Bread Inc. and its three-quarter-million-dollar annual payroll in Washington C. H. was being intensified Thursday as the campaign passed the half-way mark.

A special Chamber of Commerce committee reported Wednesday night that contributions to date have reached $16,150, and Mac Dews, chairman, expressed confidence that the goal will be reached before the July 26 deadline.

Dews cited an increase in unsolicited, voluntary contributions and said that "It seems that in the last few days everybody in Washington C. H. wants to have a part in this drive."

A master list of potential donors has been prepared by the C. of C. office and an expanded committee is contacting these prospects, but an increasing interest in the campaign is being shown by "the average citizen." Dews said a 78-year-old-woman, once in business here, was among those who called his office offering financial assistance

Evidence of interest by civic groups is shown by a $500 check from the Lions Club.

"With this kind of spirit, we can't fail," the chairman declared.

THE $30,000 sought by subscription will be added to $20,000 in the C. of C. Industrial Development Fund to make up the $50,000 which has been offered to the Pennington Corp. for reestablishment of its commercial bakery operations halted by a $500,000 fire June 9.

Morgan B. Pennington, president of the firm, has agreed to build a larger streamlined bakery on the Clinton Ave. site and concentrate the entire Pennington production here with increased employment if the fund drive is successful. If it fails, Pennington has indicated he will locate in Columbus to take advantage of lower distribution costs. Local subscribers to the financial assistance fund would then receive refunds.

In addition to Dews, the campaign committee now consists of Walter Patton, Walter Rettig, Carroll Halliday, Arthur Finley, Rich-

More Time Given For Farmers to Get in Soil Bank

Sign-up Period Extended to July 27 But No Word Here Yet

Fayette County farmers, like the rest of the farmers throughout the country, are going to have a little more time to sign up for the government's Soil Bank program.

The announcement that the time for signing up had been extended to July 27 was made at the Agriculture Department in Washington, Wednesday, but Mrs. Fred Shoop, office manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee here said that no official notice of the extension had been received up to noon Thursday. However, she added, "we assume this is correct and are going along on that assumption."

Walter E. Sollars, the state ASC chairman, called from Chicago, where he was attending a Soil Bank meeting, Tuesday to say the deadline for signing would be extended, Mrs. Shoop said. This, coupled with news reports from Washington, D. C., prompted her to assume the extension was correct, she said.

Mrs. Shoop said 153 farmers already had made application for participation in the Soil Bank and expressed the belief that "a good many more will now that they have time to make their applications."

The ASC committee here had expected "around 50" would set aside ground for the acreage reserve and laughingly admitted that "we were much too conservative in our guess."

"We had a big rush here last Monday," she said and went on to speculate that many had not felt they could take the time to come to the office to file their applications because they were more anxious to get their wheat combined.

* * *

THE COMMUNITY committeemen have been keeping right up with the appraisals of land designated for the acreage reserve, Mrs. Shoop said and pointed out that all the 153 appraisals have been completed and that the contracts are now ready for signing.

To get into the Soil Bank, she said, "a lot of corn, wheat and soybeans have been plowed up."

The Agriculture Department said the time extensions were approved because some county stabilization committees have been unable to sign up all the farmers who want to get in on the soil bank program this year.

Farmers were given until July 27 to sign agreements putting lands in the acreage reserve this year. The original deadline was Friday.

The department also set the period between July 31 and Aug. 3 as final dates for plowing under or cutting crops on soil bank land. Previously the final dates covered the July 15-July 27 period.

School Bond Issues

Eber, about two miles north of Washington C. H.

The Miami Trace District, meanwhile, is the defendant in a suit filed by a dozen taxpayers challenging the legality of the formation of the district. The suit contends the Bloomingburg, Jefferson and Paint districts were merged with the Miami Trace District after a petition asking the formation of a new Citizens Committee had been filed with the county superintendent.

THE WASHINGTON C. H. District's $645,000 bond issue proposal is for a building program for the elementary schools. It includes a new 15-room building at Elm and Willard Sts.; a new eight-room building in the southern part of the city in the Belle Aire subdivision; addition of two rooms to the Cherry Hill Building and two to the Rose Ave. building; $30,000 for new boilers to replace the old ones in the high school's heating plant; furnishing and equipping.

Voters of both school districts voted down bond issues for similar building programs two years ago. The city school proposal this time, however, was pared down from the $736,000 program which was voted on in 1954.

Sightless Boy Told Blindness Holds Benefits

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP) — Perhaps little Mike Sibole of Orlando Fla., won't understand a letter he will be receiving soon, but it contains words of heartfelt encouragement from an Iowa woman who also lost her sight when she was 4.

Mrs. Jessie Marrero, about 60, of Davenport typed a letter to the small lad, recalling that her 14-year-old brother and his friends were having a snowball fight when one of the missiles shattered a window.

Her eyes were showered with glass and she lost her sight.

"Being blind isn't an ending, Mike, but a beginning," Mrs. Marrero wrote. "It's beginning a full and rich life if you want to make it that way. A boy with a name like Mike won't have any trouble. The world will open as it always does for someone who wants it to.

"You will find your other senses growing sharper to compensate for the loss of your sight. That is important to remember, Mike, that you still have four other senses. Use them and you'll never have any trouble.

"Never fear, child; in the darkness we can see with our heart, if not with our eyes."

Today, in Orlando, Mike was reported "doing very well" after the operation. His remaining eye was removed yesterday because of cancer that two years ago destroyed his other eye and spread despite treatment.

Proof Asked That Kidnaped Tot Still Alive

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP) — Mrs. Beatrice Weinberger has appealed to the kidnaper of her 6-week-old son for "some positive proof to assure us that our baby is alive and you have him."

The child, Peter Weinberger, was kidnaped two weeks ago while sleeping in a carriage outside his parents' home here. No trace of him has been found.

Last night, the mother said, "Money is nothing compared to the love we have for Peter."

"Please contact us in any way you choose, but make it soon," her statement read. "Fourteen days have passed and we are worried. Give us some positive proof to assure us that our baby is alive and you have him. We will follow any instructions you give us."

Yesterday, a grand jury in Brooklyn indicted two men accused of trying to extort a $5,000 ransom from the Weinbergers.

The men, Gordon T. Rowell, 24, and Robert F. Giebler, 26, both of Queens were held without bail after they pleaded iinocent to charges of attempted extortion and providing false information about kidnaping. If convicted, they would face a maximum sentence of 25 years.

nel." He said the supervisors, who were manning the exchanges on an emergency basis, would not be "exposed to the hazards of mob violence."

Cole would not give details of the alleged violences which led him to call out the supervisors and postpone the negotiations.

The union denied strikers had engaged in any violent acts and issued a statement affirming the union's desire to provide emergency service in the Cadiz area.

"As for mob violence," said Curtis Fletcher, CWA national Director, "84 operators, 24 plant personnel, 6 janitors, 4 communication personnel scattered through 12 exchanges in a 100 square mile area could hardly be called a mob."

Fletcher also protested postponement of negotiations. "Too much time has already been lost by company delays," he declared.

Union and management representatives Wednesday night huddled with Phillips and Margaret Mahoney, director of the Department of Industrial Relations, and Edward E. Knaub of the State Utilities Commission. Miss Mahoney and Knaub were sent to Portsmouth by Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

Gov. Lausche acted after Mayor T. V. Oltmann of Brilliant, Mayor Daniel Vargo of Dillonvale and State Sen. Arthur Blake (D-Martins Ferry) asked him to induce the company and the union to work out plans to insure emergency service in the areas affected by the strike.

Miss Mahoney said after the conference:

"We are not here to take part in the negotiations. Our only purpose is to see that vitally needed emergency telephone service is maintained. We are satisfied that the company and the Communication Workers of America will provide that service."

The company serves subscribers in a 24-county area in southern Ohio. Supervisory personnel are manning switchboards in areas not served by dial telephones.

Flier's Widow Files $96,500 Lawsuit

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The widow of Lloyd Cotton, killed last Dec. 28 when his light plane crashed near Cambridge, Ohio, has filed suit for $96,500 against the federal government charging that the Civil Aeronautics Administration caused his death.

Mrs. Dorothy L. Cotton alleges CAA control tower operators refused twice to allow her husband permission to descend to a lower altitude after ice started forming on the plane's wings.

When permission was granted 29 minutes later the iced control surfaces were useless, she said.

Lima Jury Frees Man in Holdup Death

LIMA, Ohio (AP)— Kenneth J. Orth, 25, was acquitted Wednesday of first degree murder charges in the holdup slaying of John R. Mooney, 22, of Lima.

More Time Given For Farmers to Get in Soil Bank

Sign-up Period Extended to July 27 But No Word Here Yet

Fayette County farmers, like the rest of the farmers throughout the country, are going to have a little more time to sign up for the government's Soil Bank program.

The announcement that the time for signing up had been extended to July 27 was made at the Agriculture Department in Washington, Wednesday, but Mrs. Fred Shoop, office manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee here said that no official notice of the extension had been received up to noon Thursday. However, she added, "we assume this is correct and are going along on that assumption."

Walter E. Sollars, the state ASC chairman, called from Chicago, where he was attending a Soil Bank meeting, Tuesday to say the deadline for signing would be extended, Mrs. Shoop said. This, coupled with news reports from Washington, D. C., prompted her to assume the extension was correct, she said.

Mrs. Shoop said 153 farmers already had made application for participation in the Soil Bank and expressed the belief that "a good many more will now that they have time to make their applications."

The ASC committee here had expected "around 50" would set aside ground for the acreage reserve and laughingly admitted that "we were much too conservative in our guess."

"We had a big rush here last Monday," she said and went on to speculate that many had not felt they could take the time to come to the office to file their applications because they were more anxious to get their wheat combined.

• • •

THE COMMUNITY committeemen have been keeping right up with the appraisals of land designated for the acreage reserve, Mrs. Shoop said and pointed out that all the 153 appraisals have been completed and that the contracts are now ready for signing.

To get into the Soil Bank, she said, "a lot of corn, wheat and soybeans have been plowed up."

The Agriculture Department said the time extensions were approved because some county stabilization committees have been unable to sign up all the farmers who want to get in on the soil bank program this year.

Farmers were given until July 27 to sign agreements putting lands in the acreage reserve this year. The original deadline was Friday.

The department also set the period between July 31 and Aug. 3 as final dates for plowing under or cutting crops on soil bank land. Previously the final dates covered the July 15-July 27 period.

School Bond Issues

Eber, about two miles north of Washington C. H.

The Miami Trace District, meanwhile, is the defendant in a suit filed by a dozen taxpayers challenging the legality of the formation of the district. The suit contends the Bloomingburg, Jefferson and Paint districts were merged with the Miami Trace District after a petition asking the formation of a new Citizens Committee had been filed with the county superintendent.

THE WASHINGTON C. H. District's $645,000 bond issue proposal is for a building program for the elementary schools. It includes a new 15-room building at Elm and Willard Sts.; a new eight-room building in the southern part of the city in the Belle Aire subdivision; addition of two rooms to the Cherry Hill Building and two to the Rose Ave. building; $30,000 for new boilers to replace the old ones in the high school's heating plant; furnishing and equipping.

Voters of both school districts voted down bond issues for similar building programs two years ago. The city school proposal this time, however, was pared down from the $736,000 program which was voted on in 1954.

Sightless Boy Told Blindness Holds Benefits

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP) — Perhaps little Mike Sibole of Orlando, Fla., won't understand a letter he will be receiving soon, but it contains words of heartfelt encouragement from an Iowa woman who also lost her sight when she was 4.

Mrs. Jessie Marrero, about 60, of Davenport typed a letter to the small lad, recalling that her 14-year-old brother and his friends were having a snowball fight when one of the missiles shattered a window.

Her eyes were showered with glass and she lost her sight.

"Being blind isn't an ending, Mike, but a beginning," Mrs. Marrero wrote. "It's beginning a full and rich life if you want to make it that way. A boy with a name like Mike won't have any trouble. The world will open as it always does for someone who wants it to.

"You will find your other senses growing sharper to compensate for the loss of your sight. That is important to remember, Mike, that you still have four other senses. Use them and you'll never have any trouble.

"Never fear, child; in the darkness we can see with our heart, if not with our eyes."

Today, in Orlando, Mike was reported "doing very well" after the operation. His remaining eye was removed yesterday because of cancer that two years ago destroyed his other eye and spread despite treatment.

Proof Asked That Kidnaped Tot Still Alive

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP) — Mrs. Beatrice Weinberger has appealed to the kidnaper of her 6-week-old son for "some positive proof to assure us that our baby is alive and you have him."

The child, Peter Weinberger, was kidnaped two weeks ago while sleeping in a carriage outside his parents' home here. No trace of him has been found.

Last night, the mother said, "Money is nothing compared to the love we have for Peter."

"Please contact us in any way you choose, but make it soon," her statement read. "Fourteen days have passed and we are worried. Give us some positive proof to assure us that our baby is alive and you have him. We will follow any instructions you give us."

Yesterday, a grand jury in Brooklyn indicted two men accused of trying to extort a $5,000 ransom from the Weinbergers.

The men, Gordon T. Rowell, 24, and Robert F. Giebler, 26, both of Queens were held without bail after they pleaded iinocent to charges of attempted extortion and providing false information about kidnaping. If convicted, they would face a maximum sentence of 25 years.

nel." He said the supervisors, who were manning the exchanges on an emergency basis, would not be "exposed to the hazards of mob violence."

Cole would not give details of the alleged violences which led him to call out the supervisors and postpone the negotiations.

The union denied strikers had engaged in any violent acts and issued a statement affirming the union's desire to provide emergency service in the Cadiz area.

"As for mob violence," said Curtis Fletcher, CWA national Director, "84 operators, 24 plant personnel, 6 janitors, 4 communication personnel scattered through 12 exchanges in a 100 square mile area could hardly be called a mob."

Fletcher also protested postponement of negotiations. "Too much time has already been lost by company delays," he declared.

Union and management representatives Wednesday night huddled with Phillips and Margaret Mahoney, director of the Department of Industrial Relations, and Edward E. Knaub of the State Utilities Commission. Miss Mahoney and Knaub were sent to Portsmouth by Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

Gov. Lausche acted after Mayor T. V. Oltmann of Brilliant, Mayor Daniel Vargo of Dillonvale and State Sen. Arthur Blake (D-Martins Ferry) asked him to induce the company and the union to work out plans to insure emergency service in the areas affected by the strike.

Miss Mahoney said after the conference:

"We are not here to take part in the negotiations. Our only purpose is to see that vitally needed emergency telephone service is maintained. We are satisfied that the company and the Communication Workers of America will provide that service."

The company serves subscribers in a 24-county area in southern Ohio. Supervisory personnel are manning switchboards in areas not served by dial telephones.

Flier's Widow Files $96,500 Lawsuit

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The widow of Lloyd Cotton, killed last Dec. 28 when his light plane crashed near Cambridge, Ohio, has filed suit for $96,500 against the federal government charging that the Civil Aeronautics Administration caused his death.

Mrs. Dorothy L. Cotton alleges CAA control tower operators refused twice to allow her husband permission to descend to a lower altitude after ice started forming on the plane's wings.

When permission was granted 29 minutes later the iced control surfaces were useless, she said.

The Effort To Push Red China Into The U. N.

A few days ago we heard one Washington C. H. man who keeps well posted on international affairs, declare "I always want to boil over when I hear anyone talking about admitting Red China to the United Nations."

We believe that most honest thinking Americans will agree with that statement. Let's look at some of the facts.

It is now twelve months since United States Ambassador to Czechoslovakia, Alexis Johnson, and Wang Ping-nan, Chinese Communist Ambassador to Poland, have been meeting in Geneva to talk over "Far Eastern problems."

Number 1 item on the agenda at every one of these talks for a solid year has been the detention of American prisoners inside Red China. When the conversations began, 19 Americans were held inside China. Today, 11 are still there.

Mr. Johnson is a man of infinite patience. So is our Government. We might be excused for asserting that this patience is wearing a little thin after all these fruitless months of negotiation. Perhaps the talks have served as a deterrent to an all-out attack by the Red Chinese on the island of Formosa. If this is true, they have served a useful purpose. But until the Reds release Americans from confinement, they must understand that we do not regard them as even remotely eligible for diplomatic conversations.

All that brings up some further questions. In this political year of 1956 who is doing all this pushing in behalf of Red China?

Vice President Nixon took no official message on his recent trip, to Chiang Kai-shek from President Eisenhower. But he did assure the ruler of Formosa he had never heard the President so much as "suggest" any change in attitude concerning the admission of Red China to the United Nations. Nor were there any plans "at the present time" to have Secretary Dulles meet with China's communist premier, Chou En-lai.

This certainly is true. The fall meeting of the U. N. and the 1956 election will come roughly at the same time. The United States will do all in its power to prevent the election of Communist China to a U. N. seat. It may or may not succeed.

Egypt's recognition of the Mao Tze-tung government and the leaning toward such action by other Arab states has led the United States to begin a reevaluation of its Egyptian policy. And with it a reappraisal of the Middle Eastern situation.

It is possible Egypt may be able to bring enough new votes to put Red China in the U. N. All this troubles the present administration the more because it is a political year. It is not possible to discuss or take positions without setting up a howling political din, which would prove greatly harmful not merely to the administration but to the country's security.

Since there could be "no official messages," Nixon was sent to the countries of the troubled area as a symbol and a reassurance of White House awareness of their problems.

Circus Smell To Linger On

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — The circus die? Never!!

"The tented circus," said John Ringling North, on folding the "Greatest Show on Earth," is "a thing of the past."

He may well be right in saying time and change have rung the death knell for the great flamboyant three-ring circuses that operated under canvas and traveled the length and breadth of America in 100-car railroad trains.

But sentimentalists who think this may be the end of the circus as a form of entertainment underrate the hardihood of an institution that has endured more than 2,500 years.

Like vaudeville, the principle of the circus never really dies. Phoenix-like, in a new form.

It goes back in known history to the 6th century before Christ when Lucius Tarquinius Priscus, the fifth legendary king of Rome, laid out the circus maximus. It featured chariot and equestrian races, and horses have been a part of circuses ever since.

Later, in modern Europe, small touring family circuses became common, but they were usually one-ring affairs. They popularized the talking clown.

It remained for the United States to restore the circus to the colossal spectacle it had once been in ancient Rome.

The vast size and mobility of the modern traveling circus is strictly an American invention, undisputed even by the Russians.

Featuring hundreds of animals, scores of freaks, wild west shows, and dozens of acts, its great size made the wisecracking clown out-of-date. It led to the rise of the pantomimic clowns, exemplified today by Emmett Kelly, whose sad hobo face made millions laugh without quite knowing why.

While the huge American circuses could set up and bring hundreds of miles overnight and be ready for a new show in another town the next afternoon is said to have inspired Pursian leaders in speeding up the mobility of Gesman armies.

But this same gigantism is probably the real cause of the death of the big tent shows. Some circus fans say John Ringling North is to blame—that he strayed too far from the old-fashioned idea of the circus and made it too much like a musical extravaganza.

Others say the spread of television is the real reason, and there may be some truth in this, although there is a tendency now to blame television for everything from heat waves to a fall in the stock market.

But it is more likely that the real reason for the decline of "the big show" is that it simply got too big in a crowded time, and because too costly to operate at a profit.

North promises for next year a circus that will be an "almost completely mechanically controlled exhibition." This pronouncement has an air of mystery. Nobody knows for sure just what a push-button circus will be like.

But it's safe to say that nobody can really kill the circus unless they kill its smell.

There is no smell on earth quite like it, and so far they haven't found a way to put the circus smell on a television screen.

The Toughest Job in the World

By George Sokolsky

There can be little question but that the toughest job in all this world is running for high office in the United States. It is a very unpleasant task because adversaries attack each other without mercy, on the assumption that the people will vote for the man who has the better of two reputations ruined during a campaign.

At any rate, President Eisenhower is willing to run for a second term, despite his heart and his ileum, and his running mate will be Richard Nixon. The Republicans expect to win this election and they probably will, although no election can possibly be a foregone conclusion.

The Democrats made a grievous error in making such a fuss about Ike's health. Any man can get sick and most men do when they pass their 60th birthday, as nature then makes a few physical adjustments which may slow up the body as the mind reaches maturity. Some people's minds remain juvenile forever which may have some advantage but an immature person does not belong in the presidency.

It must be assumed that Eisenhower knows what he is doing, because it is unbelievable that a man of his training would risk his country for the pride of a second term.

The Democrats still are faced by the quandary as to whether there is a Democrat who can defeat Eisenhower. It was hoped by some Democrats that they could make an issue of the President's health, but that failed because it ran counter to good taste and only irritated many persons who felt sorry for the President. When somebody stooped to bring in the evidence of a handwriting expert, the whole business became ludicrous.

So Harry Truman advised the Democrats to drop the discussion about Ike's health and to go in for attacking the special interests, which in this administration has come to mean, more or less, General countered by bringing an anti-trust action gains General Motors on the subject of buses. Such an action takes years if it is pursued avidly. The probability is that it will be solved by a consent decree which will in no way affect the net earnings of General Motors.

Attacking the special interests is good sport in bad times, because then everything that is prosperous is a special interest. In good times, most people are concerned with making more dollars and making them go farther. Times are these days pretty good, except for a few spotty places. If conditions remain good up to election day, the special interests argument will not affect too many votes.

Actually, I think most politicians are wondering what the issue of the 1956 campaign can be. Certainly it will not be the foreign policy. Except for a few internationalist extremists on the Democratic side, and a few isolationist extremists on the Republican side, the bulk of both parties favor the same policy which started with Harry Hopkins in the time of Franklin D. Roosevelt and has continued right through the first Eisenhower administration. Neither side can attack the other on this subject.

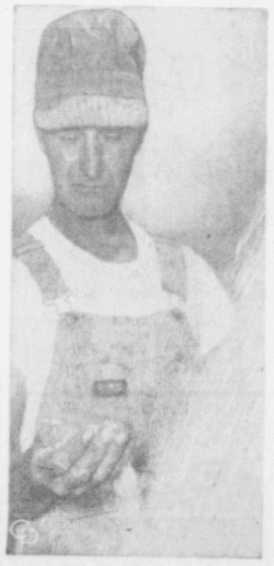

On the domestic side, the Democrats cannot attack the Republicans for the national debt or high taxes because it all started with the Democrats and continued with the Republicans. The tariff cannot be an issue because the Republicans got lower tariff rates than the Democrats. Maybe immigration could be developed into something to quarrel about, but surely no big city Democrat is prepared to oppose the Eisenhower ideas on liberalization of the McCarran-Walter Act and the Refugee Relief Act. Business, farmers, labor all get direct or indirect subsidies and got them in the time of Roosevelt and Truman as well as Eisenhower.

Therefore, what is there to campaign about? Personalities? Ike's health or his golf record; Stevenson's sartorial get-up; Nixon's fitness to be President should Ike die? Are these campaign issues?

Maybe there is nothing else to talk about. At any rate, in 1952, an issue could be made about communism in the United States and everybody said he was against it but for a different reason and that he would use different methods to stamp it out. Maybe the Democrats will pick that one up in 1956.

Drugs Won't Keep Blood Pressure Down

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

With the wide variety of therapeutic measures available to us today, we can prevent or alleviate many of the serious consequences of high blood pressure.

But that does not mean you should depend entirely upon drugs to help your cause. If you want to lead a happy life there are several rules you must follow.

Plenty of Rest

First, get plenty of rest. Often remaining in bed for 10 days or so will be a great help in lowering your blood pressure and eliminating symptoms of headaches, tenseness, dizziness, fatigue and others.

Don't stay up late. Be sure to get to bed before midnight.

A nap is helpful, too. Try to set aside enough time after lunch so you can nap or at least have a quiet 30 minutes by yourself.

Excess Weight

It's also very important that you lose any excess weight. Obesity, you must understand, promotes high blood pressure—there are some who believe it might even cause it.

While any reducing program should be charted for you by your doctor, a diet of between 1,000 and 1,500 calories per day generally will help you shed those excess pounds at the rate of about two a week.

One of the best ways of reducing, of course, is to cut out most of the sugars, starches and fats.

As a rule, it is often advisable that anyone with high blood pressure eat four or five light meals each day instead of customary three heavy ones.

Coffee and tea are stimulants. Generally, though, one or two cups of either per day is okay even with high blood pressure, if you feel you must have them. But to be on the safe side, better check with your own doctor about this.

Check with him also about whether you can have alcoholic beverages. Perhaps in your particular condition he may approve a highball or so now and then.

Cut Down Smoking

I also suggest that you cut down on smoking. Two or three cigars might be all right if you are a cigar smoker. But, again, better ask your own doctor.

Finally, take things easy.

Don't try running upstairs or doing two days' work in one. Slow down; you're apt to live much longer.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

B. L.: My baby has an enlarged tongue. What can be the cause of it?

Answer: This condition may be due to an abnormality of the lymph mechanism of the tongue. Most cases of this kind are not too disturbing and do not interfere with eating.

Occasionally however, an enlarged tongue may be due to a disease of the thyroid gland.

Ocean sunfish often reach a weight of 1,200 pounds, which is about 60 million times their birth weight.

Circus Smell To Linger On

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — The circus die? Never!!

"The tented circus," said John Ringling North, on folding the "Greatest Show on Earth," is "a thing of the past."

He may well be right in saying time and change have rung the death knell for the great flamboyant three-ring circuses that operated under canvas and traveled the length and breadth of America in 100-car railroad trains.

But sentimentalists who think this may be the end of the circus as a form of entertainment underrate the hardihood of an institution that has endured more than 2,500 years.

Like vaudeville, the principle of the circus never really dies. Phoenix-like, in a new form.

It goes back in known history to the 6th century before Christ when Lucius Tarquinius Priscus, the fifth legendary king of Rome, laid out the circus maximus. It featured chariot and equestrian races, and horses have been a part of circuses ever since.

Later, in modern Europe, small touring family circuses became common, but they were usually one-ring affairs. They popularized the talking clown.

It remained for the United States to restore the circus to the colossal spectacle it had once been in ancient Rome.

The vast size and mobility of the modern traveling circus is strictly an American invention, undisputed even by the Russians.

Featuring hundreds of animals, scores of freaks, wild west shows, and dozens of acts, its great size made the wisecracking clown out-of-date. It led to the rise of the pantomimic clowns, exemplified today by Emmett Kelly, whose sad hobo face made millions laugh without quite knowing why.

While the huge American circuses could set up and bring hundreds of miles overnight and be ready for a new show in another town the next afternoon is said to have inspired Pursian leaders in speeding up the mobility of Gesman armies.

But this same gigantism is probably the real cause of the death of the big tent shows. Some circus fans say John Ringling North is to blame—that he strayed too far from the old-fashioned idea of the circus and made it too much like a musical extravaganza.

Others say the spread of television is the real reason, and there may be some truth in this, although there is a tendency now to blame television for everything from heat waves to a fall in the stock market.

But it is more likely that the real reason for the decline of "the big show" is that it simply got too big in a crowded time, and because too costly to operate at a profit.

North promises for next year a circus that will be an "almost completely mechanically controlled exhibition." This pronouncement has an air of mystery. Nobody knows for sure just what a push-button circus will be like.

But it's safe to say that nobody can really kill the circus unless they kill its smell.

There is no smell on earth quite like it, and so far they haven't found a way to put the circus smell on a television screen.

Drugs Won't Keep Blood Pressure Down

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

With the wide variety of therapeutic measures available to us today, we can prevent or alleviate many of the serious consequences of high blood pressure.

But that does not mean you should depend entirely upon drugs to help your cause. If you want to lead a happy life there are several rules you must follow.

Plenty of Rest

First, get plenty of rest. Often remaining in bed for 10 days or so will be a great help in lowering your blood pressure and eliminating symptoms of headaches, tenseness, dizziness, fatigue and others.

Don't stay up late. Be sure to get to bed before midnight.

A nap is helpful, too. Try to set aside enough time after lunch so you can nap or at least have a quiet 30 minutes by yourself.

Excess Weight

It's also very important that you lose any excess weight. Obesity, you must understand, promotes high blood pressure—there are some who believe it might even cause it.

While any reducing program should be charted for you by your doctor, a diet of between 1,000 and 1,500 calories per day generally will help you shed those excess pounds at the rate of about two a week.

One of the best ways of reducing, of course, is to cut out most of the sugars, starches and fats.

As a rule, it is often advisable that anyone with high blood pressure eat four or five light meals each day instead of customary three heavy ones.

Coffee and tea are stimulants. Generally, though, one or two cups of either per day is okay even with high blood pressure, if you feel you must have them. But to be on the safe side, better check with your own doctor about this.

Check with him also about whether you can have alcoholic beverages. Perhaps in your particular condition he may approve a highball or so now and then.

Cut Down Smoking

I also suggest that you cut down on smoking. Two or three cigars might be all right if you are a cigar smoker. But, again, better ask your own doctor.

Finally, take things easy.

Don't try running upstairs or doing two days' work in one. Slow down; you're apt to live much longer.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

B. L.: My baby has an enlarged tongue. What can be the cause of it?

Answer: This condition may be due to an abnormality of the lymph mechanism of the tongue. Most cases of this kind are not too disturbing and do not interfere with eating.

Occasionally however, an enlarged tongue may be due to a disease of the thyroid gland.

Ocean sunfish often reach a weight of 1,200 pounds, which is about 60 million times their birth weight.

"ITS SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

The Toughest Job in the World

By George Sokolsky

There can be little question but that the toughest job in all this world is running for high office in the United States. It is a very unpleasant task because adversaries attack each other without mercy, on the assumption that the people will vote for the man who has the better of two reputations ruined during a campaign.

At any rate, President Eisenhower is willing to run for a second term, despite his heart and his ileum, and his running mate will be Richard Nixon. The Republicans expect to win this election and they probably will, although no election can possibly be a foregone conclusion.

The Democrats made a grievous error in making such a fuss about Ike's health. Any man can get sick and most men do when they pass their 60th birthday, as nature then makes a few physical adjustments which may slow up the body as the mind reaches maturity. Some people's minds remain juvenile forever which may have some advantage but an immature person does not belong in the presidency.

It must be assumed that Eisenhower knows what he is doing, because it is unbelievable that a man of his training would risk his country for the pride of a second term.

The Democrats still are faced by the quandary as to whether there is a Democrat who can defeat Eisenhower. It was hoped by some Democrats that they could make an issue of the President's health, but that failed because it ran counter to good taste and only irritated many persons who felt sorry for the President. When somebody stooped to bring in the evidence of a handwriting expert, the whole business became ludicrous.

So Harry Truman advised the Democrats to drop the discussion about Ike's health and to go in for attacking the special interests, which in this administration has come to mean, more or less, General countered by bringing an anti-trust action gains General Motors on the subject of buses. Such an action takes years if it is pursued avidly. The probability is that it will be solved by a consent decree which will in no way affect the net earnings of General Motors.

Attacking the special interests is good sport in bad times, because then everything that is prosperous is a special interest. In good times, most people are concerned with making more dollars and making them go farther. Times are these days pretty good, except for a few spotty places. If conditions remain good up to election day, the special interests argument will not affect too many votes.

Actually, I think most politicians are wondering what the issue of the 1956 campaign can be. Certainly it will not be the foreign policy. Except for a few internationalist extremists on the Democratic side, and a few isolationist extremists on the Republican side, the bulk of both parties favor the same policy which started with Harry Hopkins in the time of Franklin D. Roosevelt and has continued right through the first Eisenhower administration. Neither side can attack the other on this subject.

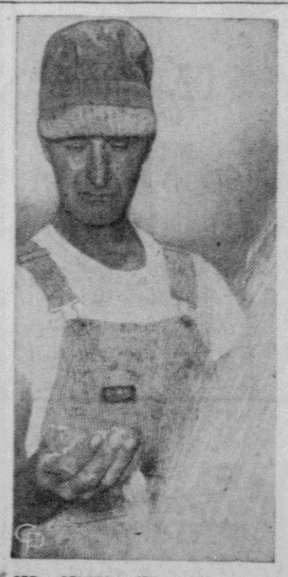

On the domestic side, the Democrats cannot attack the Republicans for the national debt or high taxes because it all started with the Democrats and continued with the Republicans. The tariff cannot be an issue because the Republicans got lower tariff rates than the Democrats. Maybe immigration could be developed into something to quarrel about, but surely no big city Democrat is prepared to oppose the Eisenhower ideas on liberalization of the McCarran-Walter Act and the Refugee Relief Act. Business, farmers, labor all get direct or indirect subsidies and got them in the time of Roosevelt and Truman as well as Eisenhower.

Therefore, what is there to campaign about? Personalities? Ike's health or his golf record; Stevenson's sartorial get-up; Nixon's fitness to be President should Ike die? Are these campaign issues?

Maybe there is nothing else to talk about. At any rate, in 1952, an issue could be made about communism in the United States and everybody said he was against it but for a different reason and that he would use different methods to stamp it out. Maybe the Democrats will pick that one up in 1956.

Financial Scandal in Illinois May Affect State Election

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Orville E. Hodge, only a few weeks ago a bright prospect for governor of Illinois, today is a "beaten" man, his political career sullied by a financial scandal that might affect the outcome of the November presidential and state elections in Illinois.

The man sometimes referred to as "most popular man in Springfield" said he was through Monday. He resigned as state auditor, an office to which he was elected in 1952 by a margin greater than all others, save one, on the state Republican ticket.

He drew even more votes in 1952 than the man who demanded he quit as auditor—Gov. William G. Stratton.

As a proven votegetter, and as an affable man admired by Republican leaders and rank-and-filers alike, Hodge had been a good bet to bid for the GOP candidacy forgovernor in 1960.

This was his fondest ambition. Then in a series of recent revelations, it was disclosed that at least 42 state warrants (checks) were unexplainably issued by his office and cashed for $544,000. Investigators say even more funds may be missing—and some sources say the ultimate figure in mishandled state money will total more than $800,000.

Now, as Stratton and other Republican leaders attempt to preserve party confidence for the November election, Hodge has been dumped from the ticket as a candidate to succeed himself. In the interim, his job as state auditor will be filled by Dr. Lloyd Morey, 70-year-old president emeritus of the University of Illinois.

Still facing Hodge are possible charges growing out of a number of current investigations.

He said in a statement Tuesday, after a conference with State's Atty. George P. Coutrakon of Sangamon County, that he would reimburse the state "to the full extent of my resources" and make a full disclosure of his activities before a grand jury. He said he would "attempt to hold the state of Illinois from any loss because of my actions."

One source reported Hodge had told Stratton and Atty. Gen. Latham Castle he believed he could raise a maximum of $400,000.

Hodge's career prior to the scandal in his office was markedly successful—both politically and in a business sense.

He was born in Indiana 51 years ago and as a small boy moved to Granite City, Ill., a town of about 30,000 near St.Louis. The family was considered well to do and Hodge, after graduation from Granite City High School, attended Washington University and the Benton School of Law in St.Louis.

He married, became the father of a son, now 22, and became owner of the Hodge Agency in Granite City, a real estate and insurance firm, on the death of his father.

He and his wife, the former Margaret Coudy of Granite City, own farms in Madison and Clinton counties in Illinois, have interests in a farm produce ranch in Pecos, Tex., and in a Missouri stock farm, and own the $600,000 Esquire apartment hotel in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., as well as several large commercial buildings in the Granite City area.

Hodge also is director of the Paramount Fire Insurance Co. of New York and a director of the Mercantile Mortgage Co. of Granite City.

He was known as perhaps the greatest joiner in Granite City. He belonged—and was active in—such organizations as the Masons, Elks, Moose, Rotary and Eagles and was an avid athletic fan, once owning shares in the old St.Louis Browns major league baseball team.

He was elected to the Illinois General Assembly in 1946 and served three successive two-year terms. In 1952 he announced he would run for governor, but withdrew when offered the position as candidate for state auditor on the GOP ticket.

Elected to the state office by a big margin, Hodge immediately reset his sights on the governorship. Friends said this ambition was behind a lot of the free-wheeling spending for which he quickly became noted.

Tall, curly-haired, good looking and an impeccable dresser he developed his greatest reputation as a host. He acquired a palatial, multiple - level home on Lake Springfield and equipped it with piped phonograph music, air conditioning and lush furnishings. Here, and in his large home in Granite City, he entertained the greats of Illinois politics.

Simultaneously, he maintained suits in the St. Nicholas Hotel in Springfield and in the Drake Hotel in Chicago—paying an estimated $25,000 over a period of 40 months for the Drake quarters.

He had four automobiles, a yacht and two airplanes, keeping a pilot on his payroll although he often flew the craft himself.

He made frequent trips to his Florida hotel, and sent friends there "on the house." He was seen frequently in night clubs—and was never known to let anybody else pick up the tab.

It was certain that Democrats would step up the tempo of their attacks against Stratton and other Republican officeholders in Illinois as the result of the Hodge scandal.

It also seemed probable that the scandal would have some effect in the November election. The uproar over the sale of unlabeled horse meat in Illinois during former Gov. Adlai Stevenson's Democratic administration was credited with helping Stratton win in 1952.

He was a hunting enthusiast and numbered baseball players Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals and Red Schoendienst of the New York Giants as his companions on hunting trips.

Not a particularly impressive orator, he nonetheless drew big crowds to political rallies and, upon being introduced, invariably was greeted by a thunderous ovation.

"He was just a real popular guy," said one Springfield reporter who has known him for years.

Among his political mementoes he perhaps prized most highly a large mural on the wall of the basement bar in his Lake Springfield home, in which he was photographed shaking hands with President Eisenhower at the 1952 Illinois State Fair. Also mounted in the bar is a personal letter from Eisenhower thanking Hodge for spending $4,000 on statewide radio announcements in April, urging a big primary vote for the President.

Upper Ohio Valley Combine Seeks To Kill Reservoir Idea

WASHINGTON (AP)—An organization called the Upper Ohio Valley Assn. is making a last ditch effort to persuade Congress to reject a proposed 14 million dollar reservoir for the Mahoning Valley in Ohio.

Spokesmen for this group call the proposal—a water conservation-flood control project on the West Branch of the Mahoning River in Portage County—a costly "pig-in-a-poke" that hasn't even been designed.

One association official, John J. Heard of Pittsburgh, says further that the project's chief sponsor, Rep. Kirwan (D-Ohio-, really intends it to be used as part of an Ohio River-Lake Erie canal.

"The canal has been Kirwan's project for 20 years," says Heard.

These views were expressed Tuesday before the Senate Public Works subcommittee at a hearing on an omnibus authorization bill for flood control and navigation projects.

Heard described the Upper Ohio Valley Assn. as a group of 500 railroad, steel, coal and oil interests. He said the Ohio River-Lake Erie canal, if ever built, would cost the railroads 100 million dollars a year.

But the project drew strong praise at the hearing fromKirwan and Sen. Bender (R-Ohio). Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) has taken no position yet on the proposal.

Asserting that Army engineers have found the West Branch project "economically justified," Kirwan said the Mahoning Valley, with its many steel mills, is often hard pressed for water.

Moreover, said Kirwan:

"This proposed reservoir will provide further protection against devastating floods and against severe droughts, which in the past have caused many millions of dollars of loss in flood damage and loss of production in one of the nation's most populous and most productive industrial areas."

Another congressman from the area, Rep. Oliver Bolton (R-Ohio), has said he hopes this Congress approves the West Branch legislation.

The House Public Works Committee has favorably reported the bill. The House itself has not acted on it.

It was R. G. Breene of Dayton, a consultant for the Upper Ohio Valley Assn., who termed the West Branch project a "pig in a poke" that should be rejected.

He said Maj. Gen. E. C. Itschener of the Army engineers has "conceded that the project was, by any ordinary standard, far from ripe for congressional action."

Kirwan himself, Breene asserted, "Gave (a House committee) no information which could be of any use to an engineer."

Breen said the Mahoning Valley and the Youngstown district "presently enjoy a relatively high degree of flood protection." He added:

"Any sound report will show that no flood of the Mahoning River has caused any material damage since the provision of the Berlin and Mosquito Creek reservoirs, and that no serious damage could be prevented by the West Branch reservoir."

Gun Silencer Case Appeal Planned

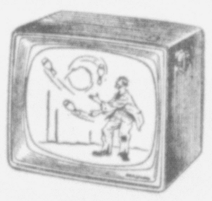

CINCINNATI (AP)—Albert Wright, 40, of Newport, Ky., plans to appeal his conviction for illegal possession of a silencer for a revolver.

A federal court jury deliberated less than an hour before returning a verdict. Judge John H. Druffel sentenced Wright Tuesday to three years in prison and a $2,000 fine on the charge.

Financial Scandal in Illinois May Affect State Election

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Orville E. Hodge, only a few weeks ago a bright prospect for governor of Illinois, today is a "beaten" man, his political career sullied by a financial scandal that might affect the outcome of the November presidential and state elections in Illinois.

The man sometimes referred to as "most popular man in Springfield" said he was through Monday. He resigned as state auditor, an office to which he was elected in 1952 by a margin greater than all others, save one, on the state Republican ticket.

He drew even more votes in 1952 than the man who demanded he quit as auditor—Gov. William G. Stratton.

As a proven votegetter, and as an affable man admired by Republican leaders and rank-and-filers alike, Hodge had been a good bet to bid for the GOP candidacy forgovernor in 1960.

This was his fondest ambition. Then in a series of recent revelations, it was disclosed that at least 42 state warrants (checks) were unexplainably issued by his office and cashed for $544,000. Investigators say even more funds may be missing—and some sources say the ultimate figure in mishandled state money will total more than $800,000.

Now, as Stratton and other Republican leaders attempt to preserve party confidence for the November election, Hodge has been dumped from the ticket as a candidate to succeed himself. In the interim, his job as state auditor will be filled by Dr. Lloyd Morey, 70-year-old president emeritus of the University of Illinois.

Still facing Hodge are possible charges growing out of a number of current investigations.

He said in a statement Tuesday, after a conference with State's Atty. George P. Coutrakon of Sangamon County, that he would reimburse the state "to the full extent of my resources" and make a full disclosure of his activities before a grand jury. He said he would "attempt to hold the state of Illinois from any loss because of my actions."

One source reported Hodge had told Stratton and Atty. Gen. Latham Castle he believed he could raise a maximum of $400,000.

Hodge's career prior to the scandal in his office was markedly successful—both politically and in a business sense.

He was born in Indiana 51 years ago and as a small boy moved to Granite City, Ill., a town of about 30,000 near St.Louis. The family was considered well to do and Hodge, after graduation from Granite City High School, attended Washington University and the Benton School of Law in St.Louis.

He married, became the father of a son, now 22, and became owner of the Hodge Agency in Granite City, a real estate and insurance firm, on the death of his father.

He and his wife, the former Margaret Coudy of Granite City, own farms in Madison and Clinton counties in Illinois, have interests in a farm produce ranch in Pecos, Tex., and in a Missouri stock farm, and own the $600,000 Esquire apartment hotel in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., as well as several large commercial buildings in the Granite City area.

Hodge also is director of the Paramount Fire Insurance Co. of New York and a director of the Mercantile Mortgage Co. of Granite City.

He was known as perhaps the greatest joiner in Granite City. He belonged—and was active in—such organizations as the Masons, Elks, Moose, Rotary and Eagles and was an avid athletic fan, once owning shares in the old St.Louis Browns major league baseball team.

He was elected to the Illinois General Assembly in 1946 and served three successive two-year terms. In 1952 he announced he would run for governor, but withdrew when offered the position as candidate for state auditor on the GOP ticket.

Elected to the state office by a big margin, Hodge immediately reset his sights on the governorship. Friends said this ambition was behind a lot of the free-wheeling spending for which he quickly became noted.

Tall, curly-haired, good looking and an impeccable dresser he developed his greatest reputation as a host. Pretty Colleen Commutes 2,000 Air Miles to Studio

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A pretty colleen named Colleen Miller could be named the queen of the airlines. She commutes between a Chicago home and a Hollywood career.

Strange things are always happening to this cute brunette. So it doesn't seem odd to her that she should have a home and a career 2,000 miles apart.

The reason for this arrangement is that she is married to Ted Briskin, former husband of Betty Hutton and head of a big camera company with headquarters in Chicago. She is also a promising young actress under contract to Universal-International Studios and now being loaned out to MGM for "Capital Offense."

"It works out very well," she argues. "We have a house here and a house on the lake front in Chicago. When I'm working, I stay here. The rest of the time I remain in Chicago. I have two sets of clothes, so it's no trouble going from one home to the other."

Doesn't her studio object to her commuting?

"They did at first," she said. "They said it would never work out. But it has."

What does her husband feel about it?

"He thinks it's wonderful. He loves Hollywood anyway. I was thinking of quitting my career when our daughter, Robin, was born seven weeks ago. But Ted said that wouldn't be fair — to me or Robin. He pointed out that if I quit I might be bored and frustrated with being just a housewife."

As I pointed out, strange things have a way of happening to Colleen. Born in Yakima, Wash., she went to high school in Portland, Ore., graduating at 16. She had been dancing since an early age and decided to seek her fortune in Hollywood.

So, all alone at 16, she took a bus to the glamor capital. She knew no one here except a dance director. That turned out to be a good contact, and she landed in a dance troupe that toured the continent.

While dancing in Las Vegas, a fish helped her get a screen contract. Yep, you heard me right. It seems she was chosen to pose with a fish — a fish caught in a Lake Mead angling contest. The photo was seen in a Los Angeles newspaper by the eagle - eyed Howard Hughes and she was offered an RKO contract.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband had dates with a foreign girl in her native land, during his service with the armed forces. From what he has told me, it was an affair, and she was not a nice girl then; by which I mean she was also having affairs with many other men.

About a week ago, this girl paid a visit to Joe's mother, I'll call her Mrs. D., who then wrote a glowing report of her, in a letter to Joe. It seems the girl is now living here, having married another serviceman from the states.

Mrs. D. writes to say that she intends to correspond with the girl and hopes to keep in touch with her. The girl came many miles to see her, which in itself seems odd to me. At least I can't conceive of going to see the mothers of my old boy friends.

If Mrs. D. knew nothing of the girl's past behavior, I wouldn't feel so badly about it, although it would hurt even then. But Joe says he had told his mother about her.

Do I have a right to ask Mrs. D. to drop her friendship for this girl? Or do I seem utter foolish to you? My husband insists it is none of his business what his mother does; but I say it is, when it involves us.

G. Y.

DEAR G. Y.: It seems fair to say that Mrs. D. isn't being a loyal friend to you in this instance. And in giving you an uneasy time about the girl with a past, who obviously is still on your husband's trail, Mrs. D. isn't doing your marriage any good, either.

It isn't clear whether Mrs. D. is simply a self-centered boob, easily captured by flattery; or whether she is being slyly hostile in respect to you, in taking the visitor to her bosom, and writing a glowing account of her to Joe.

If it is true that she has known, from Joe, about his irregular relationship with the girl overseas, and his estimate of her promiscuity, then her cordial purpose to keep in touch, by letter, and make a sort of family friend of Eve (let's call her), is rather shabby business, I think. There can be no sound argument in behalf of it.

If perchance she is in the dark9 about that aspect of the situation still her enthusiasm for the stranger seems a bit overdone — and suggests that the girl may have exceptional know-how, in buttering the ego of a lonely older woman. Maybe Mrs. D. is thrilled by this sudden extension of her social horizon, as it seems to her—having a person from a far off land seek her out, as a woman to be cultivated, as the magnetic mother of a memorable son.

In any case, whatever the facts, she is being indiscreet, and showing lack of either good sense or good will.

In my opinion, you haven't a right to ask Mrs. D. to drop her friendship with Eve. Your attitude, like Joe's, should be hands-off her life. But you are entitled to be frank with Joe, about how you feel. However, don't harp on the subject. Go over it once and distinctly, and then devote yourself to being "best friends" with him.

Aggressive Girl Romancer Chilled

CLEVELAND (AP)—It will be a trip to Blossom Hills School, a girls' training home, instead of to the altar for a 17-year-old girl.

Judge Albert Oldman ordered the change in plans today when the girl admitted she was the "aggressor" in her romance with a 16-year-old boy.

"She was always running after me, Judge," the not-so-gallant youth said. "She wanted to get married. It was her idea that we take my father's car and go."

The attractive brunette admitted this was the case.

Steel Strike Hurts Canton City Tax

CANTON (AP) — The steel strike not only is dipping into the pocket of individual steel workers but is costing the city's coffers.

A main source of revenue for this industrial city is the .6 of 1 per cent tax on payrolls and net profits.

The strike against Republic Steel Corp. and the United States Steel Corp. has cut the tax yield here by $5,000 a week. The tax yielded $1,800,000 in the first calendar year of operations, 1955, with the collection not yet completed.

More people are sent to federal penitentiaries through violations of immigration laws than through infringement of any other single law.

Akron Hotel Eyed By Chicago Group

AKRON (AP) — Chicago interests have offered $600,000, plus $150,000 to be spent on remodeling, for the 318-room Portage Hotel.

The hotel, built 44 years ago, was to have closed July 21. It will continue operating on a month-to-month basis while the Chicago purchasers negotiate.

Liberace's Uncle Killed In Mishap

COVINGTON, La. (AP) — Frank Zukosski, 66-year-old uncle of pianist Liberace, was killed when a car smashed his bicycle.

A truck had swerved over the center line to avoid hitting the bicycle. Police said a car driven by Pfc. Opta Lee Brown, 22, Kountze, Tex., was trying to pass the truck. The car pulled back and struck the bicycle which Brown said he did not see.

Born in Menasha, Wis., Zukosski came to Covington 11 years ago. Survivors include his widow and two brothers.

Ohio Pollution Board To Meet

Acid Mine Drainage To Be Chief Topic

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Water Pollution Control Board will hold two sessions tomorrow amid hints that the meeting may produce more than its share of controversy.

Consideration of the extension of sewage discharge permits of the cities of Youngstown and Girard is definitely on the docket.

The afternoon session will be devoted to a discussion of acid mine drainage in southeastern Ohio and how it affects vegetation and fish life in the rivers and streams of the area. Pollution is caused when oxidation forms sulphur compounds in coal mines and underground waters carry the resulting diluted sulphuric acid into the streams.

Several efforts to cope with the problem have met with little success, since so many mines active and abandoned filter the poison into the water.

• • •

DR. S. A. BRALEY of the Mellon Institute, Pittsburgh, recently suggested:

1. Building a small dam and flooding an abandoned mine which he believes is the main source of acidity in Lake Hope, Vinton County.

2. The restoration of two small dams on Puritan Creek near Hamden, Vinton County, providing some protection to the lower part of the stream.

Braley was employed by the coal industry to study the problem.

Braley has suggested $30,000 handed to the board by the last Ohio General Assembly be used for these projects. However, there reportedly are differing opinions as to the Legislature's intentions in making the appropriation. Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill has promised to attend the meeting.

Start at Farming Labeled Expensive

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—If you want to make between $3,000 and $4,000 a year farming, it will cost you between $50,000 and $100,000 to get started as a farmer.

There's an easier way, suggests a Florida farm expert, and that's to marry the girl whose father owns a farm.

Dr. Marshall O. Watkins, director of the Florida Agricultural Extension Service, said if beginning farmers "go in on a shoestring, they face a life of indebtedness."

She Becomes a Citizen While Confined to Bed

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)—The court moved into the bedroom for Mrs. Sam Vinner to become a citizen.

The Polish-born woman has been confined for years by multiple sclerosis. Her husband helped her make the final move to citizenship. He raised and steadied her right hand as the court clerk administered the oath of allegiance.

Memories

By JACOB MILLER

Did you ever notice the fossilized shells of mollusks, embedded in the sandstone slabs, that were used to build the sidewalk on Main St. in front of the Courthouse? Those shells were the protective armor of mollusks which lived millions of years ago when the earth was young.

Geology is a very interesting study. I became interested in a strange way. I was a guest of a family at Williamsburg about 25 years ago, and the host was an ardent hunter of fossils and Indian artifacts. He had many fine specimens of both, and, seeing I was interested, he suggested that we go in search of trilobites, saying, "There are plenty to be found in this county".

We put on overshoes, for these specimens are found in the beds of dry creeks, so away we went; we found lots of specimens of trilobites, and crinoids, a kind of animal, resembling a lily in form, and fossilized coral.

It is hard to believe, but all this country, at one time, was covered with water, and the shallow seas, teemed with mollusks and trilobites. As the ages passed, the search, by volcanic eruptions, began to rise from the sea and the sea-dwellers became imbedded in the mud, which in time, turned to stone and thus we have some of the fossilized specimens embedded in the sidewalk of our Courthouse.

Nature did everything for the benefit of mankind in the far-distant past . . . great pools of oil in the earth, and when man was ready for it, the oil was there for the many uses of present - day man.

Some of the fossil specimens I picked up at the mentioned expedition were given to Mrs. Haida Coffman, for the benefit of her geology students in Washington High School, and I presume, they are still there.

Solon Offers Prize For GOP Slogan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Oliver P. Bolton (R-Ohio) offered a $25 U. S. Savings Bond today to the person mailing him what he considers the best 1956 campaign slogan for the Republican party.

Bolton said President Eisenhower's phrases—"progressive moderates" and "dynamic conservatism"—haven't caught on.

What's needed, he said, is something as effective as President Roosevelt's "New Deal" or McKinley's "full dinner pail."

Deadline in Bolton's contest is July 31.

"Be First in Your Block"

MARLIN, Tex. (AP)—No one can explain it, but the kind of storks who bring twins seem to like a small section in the northwest part of this town of 7,000. More than a dozen sets live there, with only a scattering in the rest of the town.

"ITS SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

Chicken, Beef Featured at Meat Counters

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Varieties of chicken, a usual summer special, and roast beef, an unusual summer entry, will be featured this weekend at the meat counters of the nation's food stores.

Both stewing chickens and fryers, adaptable to hot meals as well as cold in the summer, will be the special at many stores. As might be expected, fryers are from two to four cents a pound cheaper in many sections of the country.

A good number of stores will show attractive prices for beef in several forms—prime ribs, top round, pot roast and chuck roast.

Picnic hams, veal, turkeys, leg of lamb and steak also will get their share of attention from housewives looking for a bargain.

To go with the meat she selects, Mrs. housewife can choose from lettuce, cabbage, beets, squash, escarole, radishes and green onions if she wants an outstanding buy at the vegetable counter.

Potatoes, which have been soaring in price steadily for some time, may be coming down in the near future, for wholesale prices were somewhat lower this week. The big Long Island crop has slowly started to come into the market. Rainy weather in this, or other growing areas, could halt digging, however, and thereby prolong the shortage that sent prices sky high.

There also was good news for the housewife, on a long range basis, regarding eggs. Although eggs were up seasonally two to [illegible] cents in some areas, figures show that hen house efficiency is also improving. Thanks to better poultry breeds and better feeds, egg production per hen has risen from 112 a year in 1925 to a record 192 a year in 1955.

INTRIGUE, to put it mildly, of yesteryear is recalled here, as Boris Kowerda arrives at New York's Idlewild airport from Paris. He is the man who assassinated Peter Woykow, Soviet ambassador to Poland, in 1927. He wouldn't pose or talk to reporters. (International)

So rapid is the change in the pharmaceutical industry that many medicinal preparations widely used 10 or 15 years ago are completely unused today.

Ohio Pollution Board To Meet

Acid Mine Drainage To Be Chief Topic

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Water Pollution Control Board will hold two sessions tomorrow amid hints that the meeting may produce more than its share of controversy.

Consideration of the extension of sewage discharge permits of the cities of Youngstown and Girard is definitely on the docket.

The afternoon session will be devoted to a discussion of acid mine drainage in southeastern Ohio and how it affects vegetation and fish life in the rivers and streams of the area. Pollution is caused when oxidation forms sulphur compounds in coal mines and underground waters carry the resulting diluted sulphuric acid into the streams.

Several efforts to cope with the problem have met with little success, since so many mines active and abandoned filter the poison into the water.

• • •

DR. S. A. BRALEY of the Mellon Institute, Pittsburgh, recently suggested:

1. Building a small dam and flooding an abandoned mine which he believes is the main source of acidity in Lake Hope, Vinton County.

2. The restoration of two small dams on Puritan Creek near Hamden, Vinton County, providing some protection to the lower part of the stream.

Braley was employed by the coal industry to study the problem.

Braley has suggested $30,000 handed to the board by the last Ohio General Assembly be used for these projects. However, there reportedly are differing opinions as to the Legislature's intentions in making the appropriation. Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill has promised to attend the meeting.

Start at Farming Labeled Expensive

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—If you want to make between $3,000 and $4,000 a year farming, it will cost you between $50,000 and $100,000 to get started as a farmer.

There's an easier way, suggests a Florida farm expert, and that's to marry the girl whose father owns a farm.

Dr. Marshall O. Watkins, director of the Florida Agricultural Extension Service, said if beginning farmers "go in on a shoestring, they face a life of indebtedness."

She Becomes a Citizen While Confined to Bed

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)—The court moved into the bedroom for Mrs. Sam Vinner to become a citizen.

The Polish-born woman has been confined for years by multiple sclerosis. Her husband helped her make the final move to citizenship. He raised and steadied her right hand as the court clerk administered the oath of allegiance.

VICE PRESIDENT Richard M. Nixon (right) talks to reporters after conferring with President Eisenhower at his farm in Gettysburg, Pa. Nixon gave the Chief Executive a summary of the information he gathered on his recent tour of the Far East. Regarding second place on the Republican ticket in the November elections. Nixon said he was not a "candidate" but was "available." (International)

Memories

By JACOB MILLER

Did you ever notice the fossilized shells of mollusks, embedded in the sandstone slabs, that were used to build the sidewalk on Main St. in front of the Courthouse? Those shells were the protective armor of mollusks which lived millions of years ago when the earth was young.

Geology is a very interesting study. I became interested in a strange way. I was a guest of a family at Williamsburg about 25 years ago, and the host was an ardent hunter of fossils and Indian artifacts. He had many fine specimens of both, and, seeing I was interested, he suggested that we go in search of trilobites, saying, "There are plenty to be found in this county".

We put on overshoes, for these specimens are found in the beds of dry creeks, so away we went; we found lots of specimens of trilobites, and crinoids, a kind of animal, resembling a lily in form, and fossilized coral.

It is hard to believe, but all this country, at one time, was covered with water, and the shallow seas, teemed with mollusks and trilobites. As the ages passed, the search, by volcanic eruptions, began to rise from the sea and the sea-dwellers became imbedded in the mud, which in time, turned to stone and thus we have some of the fossilized specimens imbedded in the sidewalk of our Courthouse.

Nature did everything for the benefit of mankind in the far-distant past . . . great pools of oil in the earth, and when man was ready for it, the oil was there for the many uses of present - day man.

Some of the fossil specimens I picked up at the mentioned expedition were given to Mrs. Haida Coffman, for the benefit of her geology students in Washington High School, and I presume, they are still there.

Solon Offers Prize For GOP Slogan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Oliver P. Bolton (R-Ohio) offered a $25 U. S. Savings Bond today to the person mailing him what he considers the best 1956 campaign slogan for the Republican party.

Bolton said President Eisenhower's phrases—"progressive moderates" and "dynamic conservatism"—haven't caught on.

What's needed, he said, is something as effective as President Roosevelt's "New Deal" or McKinley's "full dinner pail."

Deadline in Bolton's contest is July 31.

"Be First in Your Block"

MARLIN, Tex. (AP)—No one can explain it, but the kind of storks who bring twins seem to like a small section in the northwest part of this town of 7,000. More than a dozen sets live there, with only a scattering in the rest of the town.

Chicken, Beef Featured at Meat Counters

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Varieties of chicken, a usual summer special, and roast beef, an unusual summer entry, will be featured this weekend at the meat counters of the nation's food stores.

Both stewing chickens and fryers, adaptable to hot meals as well as cold in the summer, will be the special at many stores. As might be expected, fryers are from two to four cents a pound cheaper in many sections of the country.

A good number of stores will show attractive prices for beef in several forms—prime ribs, top round, pot roast and chuck roast.

Picnic hams, veal, turkeys, leg of lamb and steak also will get their share of attention from housewives looking for a bargain.

To go with the meat she selects, Mrs. housewife can choose from lettuce, cabbage, beets, squash, escarole, radishes and green onions if she wants an outstanding buy at the vegetable counter.

Potatoes, which have been soaring in price steadily for some time, may be coming down in the near future, for wholesale prices were somewhat lower this week. The big Long Island crop has slowly started to come into the market. Rainy weather in this, or other growing areas, could halt digging, however, and thereby prolong the shortage that sent prices sky high.

There also was good news for the housewife, on a long range basis, regarding eggs. Although eggs were up seasonally two to [illegible] cents in some areas, figures show that hen house efficiency is still improving. Thanks to better poultry breeds and better feeds, egg production per hen has risen from 112 a year in 1925 to a record 192 a year in 1955.

INTRIGUE, to put it mildly, of yesteryear is recalled here, as Boris Kowerda arrives at New York's Idlewild airport from Paris. He is the man who assassinated Peter Woykow, Soviet ambassador to Poland, in 1927. He wouldn't pose or talk to reporters. (International)

So rapid is the change in the pharmaceutical industry that many medicinal preparations widely used 10 or 15 years ago are completely unused today.

Dixie Democrats Holding Key To Hells Canyon Power Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern Democratic senators appeared today to hold the key to the fate of the Hells Canyon bill, crux of the election year battle over public vs private power.

One Republican senator active in the fight against the measure said he believes the Southerners would vote against the Democratic-backed proposal to authorize a $485 million federal dam on the Snake River between Idaho and Oregon. This senator declined to be quoted by name.

A thread of politics ran through yesterday's debate, with Republican senators denouncing Democratic "giveaway" charges as a "baseless, election-year smear attempt" and Democrats accusing the White House of exerting heavy "pressure" against the bill.

The bill would authorize federal development of the power potential of the deep Hells Canyon Gorge through erection of a single high dam. Under the Eisenhower administration the Federal Power Commission has licensed the Idaho Power Co. to build three lower dams and develop the power without government cost.

Democratic senators, seeking to dramatize the public vs private power issue for election ahead, have chosen the Hells Canyon bill as their battleground.

Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) contended the FPC decision made a "mockery of the law and of Congress." But Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) defended the FPC, saying it acted by unanimous vote "after extensive investigation."

Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) accused the Eisenhower administration of "leaving no stone unturned in its fight to turn over Hells Canyon, the finest water power site left in our country, to a private utility company for wasteful, partial exploitation."

Ohio Coal Output Hiked by 18 Pct.

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio coal production jumped 18 per cent in 1955, state Industrial Relations Director Margaret Mahoney says.

The department's annual mine report said 37 million tons of coal were mined in the state last year. The increase in production sharply reversed a decline that began in 1952, Miss Mahoney said.

The increase in coal production was accomplished without a corresponding rise in mine employment, but total mine payroll increased 14 per cent to $50.3 million.

Lowest point reached by a railroad in the United States is near Salton, Calif., where the track drips to a depth of 199.2 feet below sea level.

Salesman Leaves $1 Million Estate

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A modest lumber salesman who seldom discussed his hobby (investing in the stock market) left an estate estimated at $1 million.

He was Constontine Rodrigues, 55, who died July 12.

Members of his family said he was a serious, generous, quiet man of few words. He seldom discussed investments.

His will, filed in probate court along with a preliminary valuation, provided equal trusts for his wife and his mother after payment of small specific bequests.

Brakes Too Hot and Firemen are Summoned

Firemen were called to 543 Clinton Ave., at 5:25 p. m. Tuesday where the emergency brakes on a Chevrolet truck had become overheated and started to burn. A chemical extinguisher was used to put out the fire. Damage was light.

Siamese Twin Boys Slated For Surgery

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The Hutchens Siamese boy twins, joined at the base of their spines, undergo surgery today to separate them.

The twins, Gary and Larry, were born July 2, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hutchens of suburban El Cajon. Except for a 1½-inch tissue connection, the twins are normal in every respect.

"The date for surgery has been chosen carefully so the operation can be done while the babies are able to tolerate the ordeal with a minimum of risk," doctors said.

"At the present time the babies are in good condition as indicated by their good color, lusty cries, vigorous muscular activity, and gain in weight.

"They cry, eat, and move, without affecting one another, indicating they are two complete, separate individuals. There is no indication the intestinal tracts or vascular systems are abnormal in any way."

No Contact Here Now For Salvation Army

The county school superintendent's office in the Courthouse no longer is serving as the contact point for Salvation Army salvage trucks, it was announced Thursday. Persons who wish to donate waste paper, clothing and other aritcles to the Salvation Army are to write to the Columbus headquarters, 594 S. High St.

Dixie Democrats Holding Key To Hells Canyon Power Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern Democratic senators appeared today to hold the key to the fate of the Hells Canyon bill, crux of the election year battle over public vs private power.

One Republican senator active in the fight against the measure said he believes the Southerners would vote against the Democratic-backed proposal to authorize a $485 million federal dam on the Snake River between Idaho and Oregon. This senator declined to be quoted by name.

A thread of politics ran through yesterday's debate, with Republican senators denouncing Democratic "giveaway" charges as a "baseless, election-year smear attempt" and Democrats accusing the White House of exerting heavy "pressure" against the bill.

The bill would authorize federal development of the power potential of the deep Hells Canyon Gorge through erection of a single high dam. Under the Eisenhower administration the Federal Power Commission has licensed the Idaho Power Co. to build three lower dams and develop the power without government cost.

Democratic senators, seeking to dramatize the public vs private power issue for election ahead, have chosen the Hells Canyon bill as their battleground.

Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) contended the FPC decision made a "mockery of the law and of Congress." But Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) defended the FPC, saying it acted by unanimous vote "after extensive investigation."

Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) accused the Eisenhower administration of "leaving no stone unturned in its fight to turn over Hells Canyon, the finest water power site left in our country, to a private utility company for wasteful, partial exploitation."

Lowest point reached by a railroad in the United States is near Salton, Calif., where the track drips to a depth of 199.2 feet below sea level.

Ohio Coal Output Hiked by 18 Pct.

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio coal production jumped 18 per cent in 1955, state Industrial Relations Director Margaret Mahoney says.

The department's annual mine report said 37 million tons of coal were mined in the state last year. The increase in production sharply reversed a decline that began in 1952, Miss Mahoney said.

The increase in coal production was accomplished without a corresponding rise in mine employment, but total mine payroll increased 14 per cent to $50.3 million.

Salesman Leaves $1 Million Estate

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A modest lumber salesman who seldom discussed his hobby (investing in the stock market) left an estate estimated at $1 million.

He was Constontine Rodrigues, 55, who died July 12.

Members of his family said he was a serious, generous, quiet man of few words. He seldom discussed investments.

His will, filed in probate court along with a preliminary valuation, provided equal trusts for his wife and his mother after payment of small specific bequests.

Brakes Too Hot and Firemen are Summoned

Firemen were called to 543 Clinton Ave., at 5:25 p. m. Tuesday where the emergency brakes on a Chevrolet truck had become overheated and started to burn. A chemical extinguisher was used to put out the fire. Damage was light.

Siamese Twin Boys Slated For Surgery

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The Hutchens Siamese boy twins, joined at the base of their spines, undergo surgery today to separate them.

The twins, Gary and Larry, were born July 2, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hutchens of suburban El Cajon. Except for a 1½-inch tissue connection, the twins are normal in every respect.

"The date for surgery has been chosen carefully so the operation can be done while the babies are able to tolerate the ordeal with a minimum of risk," doctors said.

"At the present time the babies are in good condition as indicated by their good color, lusty cries, vigorous muscular activity, and gain in weight.

"They cry, eat, and move, without affecting one another, indicating they are two complete, separate individuals. There is no indication the intestinal tracts or vascular systems are abnormal in any way."

No Contact Here Now For Salvation Army

The county school superintendent's office in the Courthouse no longer is serving as the contact point for Salvation Army salvage trucks, it was announced Thursday. Persons who wish to donate waste paper, clothing and other aritcles to the Salvation Army are to write to the Columbus headquarters, 594 S. High St.

It's 'Sleepy Time Down South' for Cotton Industry

By SAM DAWSON

NEW ORLEANS (AP) —It's sleepy time down South for cotton and its products. All hands are hoping today for livelier times after the nap.

As a consumer you should be paying just about the same amount for cotton products after things pick up next month. As a taxpayer you may have to take in more bales under the price support program.

Right now the industry — from the cotton farmer, the ginning mill owner, the buyer to the textile make — is faced with these puzzlers:

Which guess on the size of the crop will prove correct, the amount of cotton land going into the soil bank, how much the textile mills will buy as they start up after their mid summer siestas how much money Americans will have to spend this winter, and how much they can be inducted to spend on cotton products.

A more immediate problem is the steel strike which threatens a shortage of steel tie bands for cotton bales.

Texas seems to be coming out the best on this, because its harvest starts first and the companies ship bands there early. The state may have enough on hand for 1½ million bales.

Two companies make most of them: Tennessee Coal & Iron division of U. S. Steel at Birmingham, Ala., where a strike of rail employes started April 28, and Atlantic Steel at Atlanta, Ga., which was struck along with the rest of the steel industry July 1.

Altogether American ginners need some 63,000 tons of ties and buckles to handle the crop. They hope steel mills in Belgium, Japan and England can send a little. And Alabama's agricultural commissioner, A. T. Todd, has asked American aluminum companies to try their hands at making bale ties.

Cotton growers have other problems this year, too: They're watching the efforts of the U. S. government to move some of its two billion dollar cotton stockpile into world markets while at the same time subsidizing American mills selling cotton fabrics abroad. The industry still isn't entirely resigned to losing the tire cord market to synthetics. Cotton men fret at the growing competition of paper and plastics for some industrial uses of cotton products and even for apparel.

And they eye the inroads of Japanese textiles on the domestic and export markets of the cotton grower's customers, the U.S. textile mills.

Guessing the size of this year's crop occupies many in the industry. But in Charlotte, N.C., Owen Fitzsimons secretary of the Carded Yarn Assn., whose members are first to lay hands on the cotton after it's ginned, scoffs at making predictions so early. He notes that weather can still affect the crop greatly; boll weevil infestation could be reported; and there's still doubt as to how much has been plowed under this year to meet soil bank terms offering 15 cents a pound for the estimated yield from land so set aside.

Officials of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, however, say there's a good chance of a fairly substantial crop this year — and if so, it could have a depressing effect on prices, meaning that a lot of it would move under the wing of government loans.

At Least 50,000 Railroaders Idled

CHICAGO (AP) — Between 50,000 and 60,000 railroad workers have been laid off because of the steel strike, the Railroad Retirement board reports.

Eastern lines in the steel mill and coal mine areas have been hardest hit.

The exact number of those not working because of the steel strike is not available, the board said because quite a few railroad employes are vacationing at this time.

Ohio Polio Total Far Back of '55

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Ohio Health Department reports 15 new cases of polio for the week ended July 14. This compared with 39 cases reported for the same week in 1955.

The department said 61 cases of polio have been reported in Ohio this year while 184 were reported to this date in 1955.

Dextrose? -- You Just Can't Hardly Get It No More!

By JACK AYER

"Oh Fortune, Variable as the Moon," mourned the poet—what's with you, anyway?

Take for instance the case of singer Elvis Presley. The poor lad may not know it yet, but the astounding popularity he has enjoyed for the last few months is being threatened by a measly pound of sugar.

It's no joke—"dextrose," a type of high-energy made principally from starch—and that most druggists forget on their bottom shelves — is fast becoming as popular as Presley, as Needles or as Grace Kelley.

Calls for dextrose in Washington C. H. drug stores during the last three weeks are about equal to total sales of the product during the last 180 years when its chief use was as an additive to baby's formula.

What's done it? The answer is really pretty simple, men. It's womankind's eternal search for the willowy waistline.

Seems that a couple of national magazines trumpeted in their pages a few weeks ago a reducing diet that called for evaporated milk, a couple of other things and dextrose.

It was as simple as that. Business hasn't been the same since at drugstores here — and everywhere, it seems one druggist reports as many as 180 calls during the last three weeks as compared with about one a year prior to now.

• • •

WOMEN — and men, too—have been visiting the druggist by the droves over the weeks with the same request on their lips.

Druggists, needless to say, haven't been able to fill their orders. Since the average druggist around here stocked one package of the powdery stuff last year, he could hardly be expected to have 180 on hand for the newest in womanly whims.

Wholesalers, too, have been mired in the morass. One Columbus dealer reports that he stocked five pounds last year and has back orders for 2,000 pounds now.

When will the back orders of dextrose be filled? Well, the inside answer today is—never. One observer explained it this way:

Aw "these things happen every so often. People get an idea in their head that such-and-such is good for them and they rush to buy it. The dealers don't have it, so they rush to the wholesaler.

"The wholesaler rushes, in turn, to the manufacturer. The manufacturer can make it, sure, he tells the dealers soothingly. But he's been through this before and knows how it ends. So he turns out little bits, just to keep the ones who really want it happy.

"And pretty soon, bingo! Just as quick as it came, the craze is gone. If the manufacturers had filled all the orders, the retailers would be stuck with enough dextrose to last them for years.

"And that's the way it's going here. I'll get some dextrose in my store, but not too much. Pretty soon everyone will go back to cheeseburgers and beer."

Warplanes-to-Cars Shift Made By Many Designers in Germany

By HANNS NEURBOURG

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — With all the midget cars appearing in Germany nowadays, driving a big American automobile makes you feel like a motorized Gulliver.

Steep automobile taxes, high insurance fees and expensive gas (60 cents a gallon) are largely responsible for the thriving new market in three — and four-wheeled babies on the road.

One advertising slogan claims the new cars "cost less taxes than a dachshund."

The number of small cars — below 700 cc cylindrical contents—registered last year showed an increase of 76 percent over 1954.

Some of the midgets are only three feet high. But they make up in economy what they lack in size.

One reportedly will travel 100 miles on less than a gallon of gasoline.

• • •

THE MIDGETS cost between $426 and $714. Some of these glass-domed cars make you think of cockpits. In fact, three of the midget cars are produced by former Luftwaffe aircraft designers.

Willy Messerschmitt, whose plants turned out the dreaded ME-109 figher plane in World War II, manufactures a three-wheeled model called a Kabin-enroller. Messerschmitt claims his midget cars are faster than any others.

Ernst Heinkel, whose bombers helped blitz London, has hit the market with a three-wheeled Kabine and Claude Dornier, designer of light bombers and reconnaissance planes, has come out with a trapezoid prototype of his earlier four-wheeled Delta.

Other tiny cars popular in Germany are the BMW-Isetta built under an Italian license, the Goggomobile and the Kleinschnittger, which looks like an expensive toy and the 200-pound Zwerg (dwarf), which is less than three feet tall.

Kentucky Truck Drive Continues

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A continuing crackdown on truckers using Kentucky highways, which already has uncovered 2,000 violators, has been promised by revenue agents.

Roadblocks have been used the last three months to detect violations of motor fuel tax laws, but other violations have been found in the process.

The State Revenue Department said 1,626 truckers were arrested between April 5 and July 1 for failure to comply with the fuel tax laws. Of these, 1,431 drew fines and court costs averaging $30 to $35.

56 Play in Women's Golf Tourney Here

Miss Rheba Miller of London carried of the championship of the Women's Invitational Golf Tournament at the Country Club here Wednesday with round of 44 and 41 for a total of 85. This was the third time in a row the youthful golfer has won the event.

In second place, but offering no great threat to the champion, was Mrs. Charles Buxton with 98. Mrs. Willard McLean finished third with 99. Both the second and third places were taken by Washington C. H. golfers.

The invitation was accepted by golfers from the University course in Columbus, Snow Hill Club at Wilmington and the Country Club at London. Including those of the host club, a total of 56 teed off for the tourney. Playing in foursomes, they started simultaneously from the No. 1, No. 4 and No. 7 tees about 10 o'clock. As soon as one foursome got in the clear, it was followed by another until the course was swarming with golfers.

When play was completed, they gathered in the club house for luncheon and visiting . . . with much of the talk centering on golf.

Elks Stampede and Trample Chows, 30-3

The Elks Little Minor League nine broke into a stampede Wednesday evening and trampled the Purina Chows, 30-0, in one of the wildest games yet.

A total of 15 Elks scored in the free-for-all — 11 of them more than once. Runs came home steadily from start to finish of the game.

All 30 of the runs were scored on 23 hits in 46 official trips to the plate. Danny Willis led his team in the foray, picking up four runs in six trips to the plate.

The victory moves the Elks up into second place, just behind the Pennington Insurance outfit. The Chows, already in last place, have yet to win a game.

Calumet Retires Equipoise Trophy

CHICAGO (AP) — Bardstown gave Calumet Farm permanent possession of the $10,000 Equipoise Mile trophy yesterday at Arlington Park, scoring a two-length victory over Darby Dan Farm's Skipper Bill in the $60,400 race named for C. V. Whitney's great horse.

Sir Tribal, a Charles Fritz' entry, finished third packing 124 pounds, one of the top weights in the field of 15.

The victory gave Calumet the required three victories in the race to gain permanent possession of the cup. The farm won in 1944 with Sun Again and with Fervent in 1948.

Indians Split Double Bill With Nats

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cleveland Indians split a double header with Washington last night, and a line drive off Jose Valdivielso's bat split the chin of Early Wynn, Tribe righthander.

X-rays were to be made today of the left side of Wynn's jaw. The blow opened a gash requiring 16 stitches to close.

The accident deprived Wynn of what might have been an easy victory No. 11 for him. He was injured in the second inning of the second game which his teammates won easily 11-1 to offset a 7-5 defeat in the first half of the twinnight twin bill.

Camilo Pascual had fanned 10 Indians and held them to one hit for six innings, but he lost his touch completely in the seventh. Cleveland broke the scoreless tie by tallying three times on two walks and three singles.

In the eighth inning against Dean Stone and Connie Grob, the Tribe added five more. In the ninth, they got three.

In the opener, Vic Wertz hit two home runs to make his season total to 21. But Washington had three homers—by Pete Runnels and Jim Lemon in the first inning off Herb Score, and by FitzGerald whose bases-empty blow broke a 4-4 tie in the seventh.

Elks Stampede and Trample Chows, 30-3

The Elks Little Minor League nine broke into a stampede Wednesday evening and trampled the Purina Chows, 30-0, in one of the wildest games yet.

A total of 15 Elks scored in the free-for-all — 11 of them more than once. Runs came home steadily from start to finish of the game.

All 30 of the runs were scored on 23 hits in 46 official trips to the plate. Danny Willis led his team in the foray, picking up four runs in six trips to the plate.

The victory moves the Elks up into second place, just behind the Pennington Insurance outfit. The Chows, already in last place, have yet to win a game.

Ted Williams and Crew Still Running Behind Loop-Leading Yankees

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After a false start, it looks as if Boston's Red Sox are on their way at last, just as Ted Williams predicted a couple of weeks back. Trouble is, they're sprinting on a treadmill in that American League race.

Williams, blaming early Sox disappointments on injuries, illness and sore arms, figured the Bostons were healthy and ready to go. And after being side-tracked by New York, the Red Sox now have won 10 of 12, skipping past Chicago into third place and to within six points of runner-up Cleveland.

They closed in on the Indians Wednesday, beating Kansas City 7-3 as Mel Parnell followed up his Saturday no-hitter with a seven-hit job.

The Yankees, however, still lead the pack by a plush 9½ games—even after Detroit ended their winning streak at 11 games with an 8-4 and 4-3 doubleheader sweep. Cleveland split at Washington, losing 7-5 and winning 11-1. And the White Sox were knocked off by Baltimore 4-3 for their 11th straight defeat-longest slump in the majors this season.

In the National, there wasn't one sign of a player brawl as Milwaukee re-established its two-game lead with a 7-3 decision over the New York Giants. Cincinnati 6-3. Rain held Pittsburgh and St. Louis to a 1-1 tie called in the top of the 10th. And Philadelphia swept the Chicago Cubs 6-4 and 6-1.

The Red Sox, enjoying their best surge since winning 14 of 16 in June 1955, have gained only half a game on New York but have packed away 8½ games against Chicago and 4½ against Cleveland.

A four-run eighth inning against Troy (1-9) Herriage kept them going Wednesday. Jackie Jensen's single broke a 3-all tie and Don Buddin added a two-run double in the rally.

Paul Foytack and Frank Lary, two right-handers, chilled the Yankees. Al Kaline made a leaping stab of Mickey Mantle's two-out, two-on liner in the ninth inning of the nightcap to protect the slim lead he had provided with his 14th home run in the sixth off Maury McDermott.

Mantle, playing without a brace on his right knee for the first time since July 4, hit his 31st home run in the first inning of the opener — putting him eight games ahead of Babe Ruth's record-60 pace in 1927.

The Indians lost right-hander Early Wynn in the second inning of the nightcap when he was socked on the chin by Jose Valdivielso's line drive. Sixteen stitches were needed to close the gash. Pete Runnels and Jim Lemon homered for a 4-0 lead before Herb Score could get a man out in the opener and Ed FitzGerald then homered in a two-run seventh that won it against reliefer Bob Feller. Vic Wertz hit his 20th and 21st home runs for the Tribe.

A bases-loaded, two-out error by third baseman Fred Hatfield gave Baltimore the winning run in the ninth for the Birds' sixth straight victory. Morrie Martin, late of the White Sox, won in relief after stopping a tying Chicago rally in the ninth.

Bobby Thomson drove in four runs—two on a first-inning double and two on his 12th home run in the sixth—as the Braves made it eight out of nine.

Four runs in the first, with Sandy Amoros' homer scoring two, won for the Brooks and Carl Erskine, who needed Clem Labine's relief help. Wally Post, who contributed a two-base error in the quick Dodger start, homered in the first. Johnny Klippstein lost it.

Dale Long's double tied it for Pittsburgh in the ninth against Vinegar Bend Mizell. The Cards scored in the sixth off Red Munger on Stan Musial's double and Whitey Lockman's single.

Philadelphia edged to within five points of the fifth-place Bucs as the onetime one-two knockout pitching punch of Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons clicked again.

'Spider' Webb Wraps Up Mims

CHICAGO (AP) — Ellsworth (Spider) Webb, an 11-5 underdog making his first 10-round start, scored a unanimous decision over experienced Holly Mims of Washington, D. C., here last night.

Webb, 23, 1952 American Olympic champion just two months out of the Army, was the favorite on all scoring cards as he slapped Mims, No. 10 ranking middleweight, almost at will and got little in return except in the early rounds. Webb weighed 157½ and Mims 157 for the bout.

Adcock, Gomez 'Make Up' After Giants-Braves Tiff

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Joe Adcock and Ruben Gomez—principals in Tuesday night's "hare and hound" melee—were agreed today that it would be best to forget about the incident.

And most of their teammates on the Milwaukee Braves and New York Giants seconded the motion.

National League President Warren Giles fined the Giants' right-hander $250 and suspended him for three days and fined the big Braves' first baseman $100 as a result of their actions in the second inning of the game won by New York 8-6 in 11 innings.

Gomez's first pitch nicked Adcock's right wrist. As Adcock, a powerfully built 210-pounder, walked toward first base the two players exchanged words. Suddenly, Adcock wheeled and charged the mound like a maddened bull. Gomez fired another ball at Adcock, who was about 20 feet away, and hit him on the left thigh.

Then he made a bee line for his dugout, dodged a block thrown by Braves' third base coach Johnny Riddle and reached sanctuary well ahead of Adcock and a swarm of Braves. Players from both sides milled about but no punches were thrown. Gomez and Adcock were ejected.

Big Joe said Wednesday night he had "no hard feelings toward Gomez."

"I've been hit four times by pitchers," he said. "I've had it up to here," he added, drawing his hand across his throat. "Sure, I got mad, but this is a new game. He probably wants to pitch again. I want to bat again. I make my money at the plate, not at first base."

"Apologize to me? Maybe I should apologize to him. As far as I'm concerned I'm forgetting about the whole thing."

Gomez, reached at the Giants' hotel during Wednesday night's game won by the Braves 7-3, said, "I've forgotten about it already." Then he added:

"Those things happen in baseball every day. They're part of the game. Supposing I go toward the first base line to cover a bunt and get spiked. Why should I get mad?

"Adcock stands too close to the plate and he moves slow. I didn't mean to hit him.

Medics Fight Good Hope to 4-4 Draw

The Medics fought Good Hope to a 4-4 tie in Babe Ruth League play at Good Hope Wednesday evening. This was only the second time this season that Good Hope's position at the head of the league has been challenged.

Terry Stillings tied things up for Good Hope in the bottom of the seventh, just when his team was in serious danger of getting beaten. Stillings came home on a bad pitch to throw the game into a deadlock just as darkness came in.

Scoring for the Medics took place in the first and in the fourth and for quite a while it looked as if they'd beat the league leaders. But Good Hope picked up one run in the second and two more in the third to build up to Stilling's big play.

Little League All-Star Tourney Tuesday

The Little League All - Star baseball tournament will come to Washington C. H. next Tuesday evening for the first time in history Max Lawrence, Little League commissioner, announced today.

And what's more, a full 14-boy slate from Washington C. H. will be taking part in it. A group of 14 of the best boys in Little League here will make their first bid next Tuesday for what could be the first step towards a national championship.

Each year, Lawrence explained, every Little League in the country selects a squad of its best to play in tournament eliminations for a National Little League championship.

Next Tuesday's game will pit the Washington C. H. All-Stars against the Portsmouth All-Stars. Winner of that game will tackle the winner of a New Boston-Eastern Ohio Champs game played the same night.

Managers of the team will be John Breiner and Stan Mark, the managers of the Flashes and the Jets. The Flashes and the Jets led the League last year.

League officials noted that members of the Realtors and the Kernels squads are not eligible for this year's squad because the teams have not yet been officially accepted by National Little League. Every team must undergo a year's probation before it is accepted, and the two teams will doubtless be eligible next year.

Game time has been set for 6 p. m. Tuesday at Wilson Field.

Gabe Paul, general manager, said he wanted the veteran as a pinch hitter and for additional catching insurance during the closing National League race.

Edwards batted .310 with Vancouver in the Pacific Coast League earlier this year.

Bosox Show Power in AL Pennant Chase

Ted Williams and Crew Still Running Behind Loop-Leading Yankees

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After a false start, it looks as if Boston's Red Sox are on their way at last, just as Ted Williams predicted a couple of weeks back Trouble is, they're sprinting on a treadmill in that American League race.

Williams, blaming early Sox disappointments on injuries, illness and sore arms, figured the Bostons were healthy and ready to go. And after being side-tracked by New York, the Red Sox now have won 10 of 12, skipping past Chicago into third place and to within six points of runner-up Cleveland.

They closed in on the Indians Wednesday, beating Kansas City 7-3 as Mel Parnell followed up his Saturday no-hitter with a seven-hit job.

The Yankees, however, still lead the pack by a plush 9½ games—even after Detroit ended their winning streak at 11 games with an 8-4 and 4-3 doubleheader sweep. Cleveland split at Washington, losing 7-5 and winning 11-1. And the White Sox were knocked off by Baltimore 4-3 for their 11th straight defeat-longest slump in the majors this season.

In the National, there wasn't one sign of a player brawl as Milwaukee re-established its two-game lead with a 7-3 decision over the New York Giants. Cincinnati 6-3. Rain held Pittsburgh and St. Louis to a 1-1 tie called in the top of the 10th. And Philadelphia swept the Chicago Cubs 6-4 and 6-1.

The Red Sox, enjoying their best surge since winning 14 of 16 in June 1955, have gained only half a game on New York but have packed away 8½ games against Chicago and 4½ against Cleveland.

A four-run eighth inning against Troy (1-9) Herriage kept them going Wednesday. Jackie Jensen's single broke a 3-all tie and Don Buddin added a two-run double in the rally.

Paul Foytack and Frank Lary, two right-handers, chilled the Yankees. Al Kaline made a leaping stab of Mickey Mantle's two-out, two-on liner in the ninth inning of the nightcap to protect the slim lead he had provided with his 14th home run in the sixth off Maury McDermott.

Mantle, playing without a brace on his right knee for the first time since July 4, hit his 31st home run in the first inning of the opener — putting him eight games ahead of Babe Ruth's record-60 pace in 1927.

The Indians lost right-hander Early Wynn in the second inning of the nightcap when he was socked on the chin by Jose Valdivielso's line drive. Sixteen stitches were needed to close the gash. Pete Runnels and Jim Lemon homered for a 4-0 lead before Herb Score could get a man out in the opener and Ed FitzGerald then homered in a two-run seventh that won it against reliefer Bob Feller. Vic Wertz hit his 20th and 21st home runs for the Tribe.

A bases-loaded, two-out error by third baseman Fred Hatfield gave Baltimore the winning run in the ninth for the Birds' sixth straight victory. Morrie Martin, late of the White Sox, won in relief after stopping a tying Chicago rally in the ninth.

Bobby Thomson drove in four runs—two on a first-inning double and two on his 12th home run in the sixth—as the Braves made it eight out of nine.

Four runs in the first, with Sandy Amoros' homer scoring two, won for the Brooks and Carl Erskine, who needed Clem Labine's relief help. Wally Post, who contributed a two-base error in the quick Dodger start, homered in the first. Johnny Klippstein lost it.

Dale Long's double tied it for Pittsburgh in the ninth against Vinegar Bend Mizell. The Cards scored in the sixth off Red Munger on Stan Musial's double and Whitey Lockman's single.

Philadelphia edged to within five points of the fifth-place Bucs as the onetime one-two knockout pitching punch of Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons clicked again.

'Spider' Webb Wraps Up Mims

CHICAGO (AP) — Ellsworth (Spider) Webb, an 11-5 underdog making his first 10-round start, scored a unanimous decision over experienced Holly Mims of Washington, D. C., here last night.

Webb, 23, 1952 American Olympic champion just two months out of the Army, was the favorite on all scoring cards as he slapped Mims, No. 10 ranking middleweight, almost at will and got little in return except in the early rounds. Webb weighed 157½ and Mims 157 for the bout.

Adcock, Gomez 'Make Up' After Giants-Braves Tiff

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Joe Adcock and Ruben Gomez—principals in Tuesday night's "hare and hound" melee—were agreed today that it would be best to forget about the incident.

And most of their teammates on the Milwaukee Braves and New York Giants seconded the motion.

National League President Warren Giles fined the Giants' right-hander $250 and suspended him for three days and fined the big Braves' first baseman $100 as a result of their actions in the second inning of the game won by New York 8-6 in 11 innings.

Gomez's first pitch nicked Adcock's right wrist. As Adcock, a powerfully built 210-pounder, walked toward first base the two players exchanged words. Suddenly, Adcock wheeled and charged the mound like a maddened bull. Gomez fired another ball at Adcock, who was about 20 feet away, and hit him on the left thigh.

Then he made a bee line for his dugout, dodged a block thrown by Braves' third base coach Johnny Riddle and reached sanctuary well ahead of Adcock and a swarm of Braves. Players from both sides milled about but no punches were thrown. Gomez and Adcock were ejected.

Big Joe said Wednesday night he had "no hard feelings toward Gomez."

"I've been hit four times by pitchers," he said. "I've had it up to here," he added, drawing his hand across his throat. "Sure, I got mad, but this is a new game. He probably wants to pitch again. I want to bat again. I make my money at the plate, not at first base."

"Apologize to me? Maybe I should apologize to him. As far as I'm concerned I'm forgetting about the whole thing."

Gomez, reached at the Giants' hotel during Wednesday night's game won by the Braves 7-3, said, "I've forgotten about it already." Then he added:

"Those things happen in baseball every day. They're part of the game. Supposing I go toward the first base line to cover a bunt and get spiked. Why should I get mad?

"Adcock stands too close to the plate and he moves slow. I didn't mean to hit him.

In addition to ordering consolidation of the Far East Command with the Pacific Command, the department directed the abolishment of separate air defense commands in Alaska and the Canadian-Greenland northeast approaches. A Pentagon spokesman said the new program would mean fewer men would be needed for various headquarters in the Far East, Alaska and the Northeast.

Milledgeville Boys Go Hiking

Boys Pass Cooking Test on Venture

Boy Scouts of the Milledgeville Troop No. 303 got their first taste of real scouting when they went on an overnight hike to Camp Pine. They cooked their own meals and kept house out-of-doors for themselves on the venture.

A campfire meeting attended by their parents highlighted the day-long session. Several boys were presented registration and Tenderfoot badges at the campfire ceremony.

In order to pass their Scout cooking test, the boys cooked hamburgers and potatoes for their evening meal — over the campfire. A campfire-cooked breakfast featured bacon and eggs.

Scouts hiked from the Greenfield Rd. out to Camp Pine for the venture. Arriving at the camp, they cooked supper, heard the usual meeting reports and listened to their fellow members explain how they made money for their Cub dues.

Scoutmaster Grant Morgan and Assistant Scout Master Edward Rankin urged each boy to make his own money for his Scout uniform and cooking equipment.

Registration cards were presented to Billy Creamer, Johnny Bartruff, Vernon Klontz, Johnny Minton, Rodger Hodge, Glenn Rankin and J. P. Morgan. The same boys received Tenderfoot badges at the meeting.

Parents attending the campfire were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Klontz, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cramer, Bonnie and Barbara Cramer, Mrs. Edward Rankin, Penny and Johnny Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan, Sonny Morgan and Mrs. Grant Morgan.

Class of 1914 Reunion Sunday

42nd Anniversary Set By WHS Graduates

A chance to renew old friendships and recall old times will be given the Washington C. H. High School class of 1914 Sunday noon when the class gets together at the high school to celebrate its 42nd anniversary.

Close to 40 of the original 47 members of the class are still living, a spokesman for the group reported, and many of them are expected to be at the reunion. At least a few will be coming in from out of town, it was said.

The class has held reunions every five years since its graduation, it was said, but from now on plans are being made to hold them every two years. This will be the first of the biennial meetings.

Not only class members but their children and grandchildren as well attend the sessions.

They will bring carry-in dinners and have a chance to dine and visit at the meeting. The reunion will be held in the high school's former cafeteria.

In past years, it was added, former teachers of the class have attended the meetings but this year that won't be possible. The only teacher still living is the former Miss Mabel Graham of Xenia and ill health will prevent her presence.

Planners for the event include Mrs. J. E. McLean, Mrs. Clifford Foster, Mrs. Zoe Garinger, Mrs. J. Rankin Paul, Mrs. Walter Thompson, Mrs. Lydia Williams, Mrs. Ruth Hopkins, John Schoonover, Otha Cox and Emerson Chapman.

THE DEFENSE Department described the Far East Command changes as a centralizing and simplifying move.

In addition to ordering consolidation of the Far East Command with the Pacific Command, the department directed the abolishment of separate air defense commands in Alaska and the Canadian-Greenland northeast approaches. Effective Sept. 1, these will be placed under the Continental Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs.

A Pentagon spokesman said the new program would mean fewer men would be needed for various headquarters in the Far East, Alaska and the Northeast.

Milledgeville Boys Go Hiking

Boys Pass Cooking Test on Venture

Boy Scouts of the Milledgeville Troop No. 303 got their first taste of real scouting when they went on an overnight hike to Camp Pine. They cooked their own meals and kept house out-of-doors for themselves on the venture.

A campfire meeting attended by their parents highlighted the day-long session. Several boys were presented registration and Tenderfoot badges at the campfire ceremony.

In order to pass their Scout cooking test, the boys cooked hamburgers and potatoes for their evening meal — over the campfire. A campfire-cooked breakfast featured bacon and eggs.

Scouts hiked from the Greenfield Rd. out to Camp Pine for the venture. Arriving at the camp, they cooked supper, heard the usual meeting reports and listened to their fellow members explain how they made money for their Cub dues.

Scoutmaster Grant Morgan and Assistant Scout Master Edward Rankin urged each boy to make his own money for his Scout uniform and cooking equipment.

Registration cards were presented to Billy Creamer, Johnny Bartruff, Vernon Klontz, Johnny Minton, Rodger Hodge, Glenn Rankin and J. P. Morgan. The same boys received Tenderfoot badges at the meeting.

Parents attending the campfire were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Klontz, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cramer, Bonnie and Barbara Cramer, Mrs. Edward Rankin, Penny and Johnny Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan, Sonny Morgan and Mrs. Grant Morgan.

Progress of the campaign was reviewed at a special meeting of the C. of C. board Wednesday night.

He had commendations also for columnist Doris Fleeson and James B. Reston of the New York Times.

"But few of the others have been writing about it," McNamara said, "the only conclusion I can draw is that they are not allowed to."
